AUSTRIA'S ANSWER TO HITLERITE THREAT OF TERRORISM

Chain of Bonfires as Protest Against Nazi Proclamation

AUSTRO-GERMAN TENSION TIGHTENS

Strong Anti-Nazi Measures Foreshadowed

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

VIENNA, June 25.

Austria is answering the Hitlerite threat of terrorism by a chain of mountain top bonfires to-night as part of a great patriotic demonstration against the proclamation that Herr Proksch, the Austrian Nazi leader, was thrown from an aeroplane over Linz, relieving the Nazi Austrian officials of their functions, presumably as an alibi for them in the event of outrages.

Strong anti-Nazi measures are foreshadowed by Dollfus who stated that the Government will not be turned by letters threatening death and is prepared to defend the Fatherland to the last drop of blood.

FOREIGN PLANES OVER BERLIN

GERMAN PUBLIC PUZZLED

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

BERLIN, June 24.

THE GERMAN public are puzzled by an official story of foreign aeroplanes flying over Wilhelmstrasse. The police and Air Ministry report that the planes, which were foreign and unidentified, dropped pamphlets containing insulting remarks about the German Government.

Nevertheless, enquiries at Tempelhof Aerodrome have elicited no knowledge of foreign planes.

The newspapers are ordered to publish a front page statement about aeroplanes that nobody has apparently seen.

NO POLICE PLANES

BERLIN, June 24.

The official communique issued here yesterday in connection with the "mysterious" visitation to Berlin of foreign aeroplanes points out that no police planes were available to chase the "foreign planes," as Germany is reduced to impotence against air attack, by virtue of the Versailles Treaty.

TWO POLICE PLANES TO BE BUILT

BERLIN, June 24.

Despite the Peace Treaty restrictions, Capt. Goering has decided immediately to order the construction of two fast police aeroplanes to pursue and establish the identity of invading foreign air raiders such as those of yesterday.

NEW DEMAND FOR EQUALITY

BERLIN, June 24.

It is officially stated that as a result of the pamphlets dropped from the air on Berlin, Germany will insist at Geneva on equality in air and land armaments.

SOCIALIST LEADER ARRESTED

BERLIN, June 24.

The former Reich President of the German Socialist Party, Herr Paul Loebe, was arrested here yesterday afternoon, and also a number of Social Democrats.

The arrests were made in connection with the dissolution of the Socialist Party.

HERR HUGENBERG RESIGNS

FRICTION IN GERMAN CABINET

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

BERLIN, June 25.

It is understood that Hugenberg has tendered his resignation, but Pres. Hindenburg has not yet accepted it.

Hugenberg in his letter to Pres. Hindenburg, it is understood, has given the opinion that the Enabling Act passed by the Reichstag on May 23, becomes invalid with his resignation as it is limited to the duration of the present Cabinet.

Nazis on the contrary maintain the Cabinet is known in the Chancellor's name and resignations by Cabinet Ministers do not affect the position of the Cabinet itself.

25 YEARS FOR KIDNAPPER

HEAVY SENTENCE PASSED ON KENNETH BUCK

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

BARNSTABLE, Mass., June 25. KENNETH BUCK was today sentenced to 25 years' imprisonment for the kidnapping of Margaret McMath, the daughter of a wealthy American on May 7. Cyril, his brother, was acquitted.

YANGTZE RIVER RISING

HEAVY RAINS REPORTED

FLOODS MAY BE WORSE THAN IN 1931

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

Nanking, June 25.

Officials of the Yangtze Conservancy Commission held an urgent meeting this morning following reports from the upper Yangtze that the river was again rising after a slight subsidence yesterday. Heavy rains are reported from Chungking and Ichang, while at Hankow the sky is overcast. The river level is 47 feet 2 inches.

FURTHER RISE EXPECTED

A further rise in the Yangtze is expected as a result of thawing ice and snow on the Mountain tops in the upper Yangtze. Should the flood actually occur it will be more serious than in 1931, as the dykes built since then imprison the waters.

EARLIER REPORT

Hankow, (Earlier).

The ex-German Concessions was three to four inches under water yesterday, while the low-lying parts in the French and Japanese Concessions and the ex-British Concessions are also flooded. But it is officially stated the water in the upper reaches of the Yangtze fell considerably.

FLOOD PREVENTION CONFERENCE

ADOPTS $1,000,000 SCHEMES

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

Nanking, June 24.

THE JOINT Flood Prevention Conference closed this afternoon after adopting a broad programme, including the division of the Yangtze basin into six districts, which are again sub-divided. The provinces shall co-operate through a Flood Prevention Commission.

Preventive measures for the present season are estimated to cost $1,000,000 which shall be borne by Kiangsu, Hupeh, Anhwei, Hunan and Kiangsi, while the Central Government shall make grants if necessary.

The Japan Central Silk Association, at a meeting of its council, decided on the sales promotion scheme as drafted by the Special Committee some time ago.

The scheme, as already noted, features the defrayal of ¥2,000,000 in three years, commencing next year. Of this total, ¥1,380,000 is to be spent in the United States, ¥30,000 in France and ¥120,000 in Japan. The Association is to cooperate with the U.S. Silk Associations in popularizing natural silk, while in France, assisted by the Silk Association there, an endeavor is to be made for the introduction of new fashions. The campaign is to include cinematograph shows, lectures and fairs.

As regards the ¥1,000,000 to be subsidized by the Government, the Association is soon to launch a movement but the result will not be known until autumn. Eggs, manufacturers and cocoon raisers are opposed to any share on their part, but it is hoped that they will eventually agree to bear some.

Taking advantage of the World Exposition now held in Chicago, the Association is to commission about five representatives and discuss the campaign with merchants there.

The people who have changed the world very much have usually done so indirectly. Such are the scientists, and though far more interesting to us than politicians and charlatans, they are almost impossibly difficult to write about.—David Garnett.

SOVIET GUSHER

130,000 TONS OF OIL IN 12 DAYS.

Moscow, June 15.

The great oil gusher in the Lukbatan oilfields of Azerbaidjan continues yield its black treasure with unabated force. It has shot up 130,000 tons of oil in 12 days and is now under control. A pipe-line for conveying the oil to the tanker at Batum has been completed.

In view of the tremendous oil reserve the gusher has indicated the manager of the Azneft oilfield has raised with the appropriate organs the question of extending capital works at Lukbatan to the extent of 6,000,000 roubles, the aim being to make it the biggest oilfield in 1934, with a production of over 1,000 tons.—Tass.

I state without hesitation that I consider a private banker a national asset and not a national danger.

Changing China
A quarterly non-political review of life and conditions in China.

"... Changing China is an interesting and useful quarterly. The articles which it contains have been written in the form of letters by men and women of various ranks of life who are living in the interior of China.
They are not professional writers with any axe to grind but are describing what they have actually seen and experienced...
The reader gets a picture or rather a series of pictures of life in Modern China, and at the same time a resumé of the progress made in industrial development during the past quarter..."

CRUISER HIT AT SEVEN MILES

NAVAL GUNNERS ON THE MARK

On board H.M.S. Dorsetshire.
At 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, the stillness of the Mersey Firth was broken by the roar of guns and the gathering twilight was illuminated by their flashes.
At the time that officers and men would normally be enjoying their evening leisure, the horizon expanded to about ten miles and the target became a dim speck at about eight miles.

The action bugle sounded, the sloop was shot silently at 50 miles an hour from the catapult,
the turret trained on the beam, and, within a few minutes of the bugle, pillars of spray from the concentrated fire of Exeter, York, and Dorsetshire obscured the target at intervals of about 20 seconds. Hitting was quickly achieved by each ship. Seventy-seven out of the 80 allowed to Dor-setshire were fired in two minutes, which well exemplified the perfection of the training.

Shortly before 10 p.m. Dorset-shire again came into action with the target invisible to the naked eye. The first salvo from eight 8-inch guns fell 200 yards over the target, the second 100 yards over, while the third straddled, a gunnery achievement this.

This morning, in brilliant sunshine, with a clear horizon and a fresh breeze, the squadron weighed and proceeded to the area in which Dorsetshire was to act as target for the fifteen-inch guns of Malaya and Valiant in what is known as a throw-off practice. This ship is the point of aim, but, with six degrees of extra deflection on the sights, the great projectiles strike the sea about 500 yards ahead.

Safe by 500 Yards.

The great spectacle of the throw-off fire completes the practices for this week, and a thrilling sight it is. Briefly the aim of the practice is for the Dorsetshire to close the battleships to torpedo range in low visibility that is assumed, and to believe the attacker unit, and subsequently to escape by the use of high speed and large alterations of course. We are thus an exceedingly difficult target.

Fire was opened on us at seven miles, and the first eight rounds missed over. Swinging under full helm to port, Dorsetshire fired dummy runs with her torpedoes, but within a few moments of the discharge a great pyramid of water rose within less than 500 yards of us. But for that big device of throw-off this despatch would not, therefore, have been written, unless, possibly but not probably, in an open boat.

In the subsequent firing the Hood's turret gunlayers blew the target out of the water.

As a spectator during the past four days of British naval gunnery and seamanship, and writing
as one with wide past experience,
I can say with all sincerity and without soft soap that so far as the personnel is concerned the Navy of to-day, though lamentably small in numbers, is all that the country could wish, and under all the circumstances greatly more efficient than those with a true knowledge of its handicaps and discouragements would reasonably expect.

LESSON SERMON

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—HONG KONG

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which was read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 23.
The Golden Text was: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined" (Isa. 9:2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me...
Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.
Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father: and how sayest thou then,
Shew us the Father? ... Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father." (John 14:1, 8, 9, 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:
"Diving Truth, Life, and Love gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness and death. His mission was to reveal the Science of celestial being, to prove what God is and what He does for man... He proved by his deeds that Christian Science destroys sickness, sin, and death."
(p. 20).

THE SALVATION ARMY

Further Trouble Over Leadership

NIECE AND AUNT RIVALS

Another crisis, graver than that of 1929, is threatening to disrupt the Salvation Army and give it a new leader.

Two women—niece and aunt—have competing claims to the world rulership of the army.
Their rivalry is complicated by the American section's claim to autonomy and by the old controversy in Britain over rulership by what its critics call the Booth "clan."

The present head of the army,
General Higgins, is due to retire next year on reaching the age-limit of seventy.

Since he came to power four years ago he has not only set an age-limit for officers, but has resounded the rule by which each general should nominate his successor secretly and leave the name in a sealed envelope with the army's solicitors.

Election by the second rank—
the commissioners—is now the method of choosing a general, and already considerable "lobbying" is going on.

The rival candidates are:
Commissioner Catherine Booth,
a 61-year-old daughter of the late General Bramwell Booth.

Commissioner Eva Booth, aged sixty-five, head of the American section of the army, and sister of the late General Bramwell Booth.

It is claimed for Commissioner Catherine Booth that she is the youngest commissioner, and that continuity of policy is hindered by the appointment of elderly candidates with but a short reign in front of them.

There is strong American opinion that the Transatlantic leader, Commissioner Eva Booth, should be the army's next head.

The movement in the States is increasingly rebellious against British control, and has so strongly threatened to refuse to subscribe to the international funds of the army that General Higgins has had to make a flying trip there in an attempt to keep the members from seceding.

"Democratization"

The trouble which split the army four years ago, and which came to a sudden end over the deathbed of General Booth, was "the democratization of the army."

The sealed envelope appointment by one general of his successor was resented, and, after troublesome sittings of the High Council—composed of the commissioners—it was agreed, that future generals should be appointed by the vote of the commissioners.

Some of the secret history respecting the deposition of Bramwell Booth can now be disclosed for the first time. He died his wife issued a private document to high officers in which she disclosed that at that time, Eva Booth was competing with (then) Commissioner Higgins for the general-ship.

There was a vote of the High Council and a report of it got into the army organ the "War Cry," showing forty-two votes for General Higgins and only seventeen for Commander Eva Booth. Some one caused that issue of the "War Cry" to be withdrawn, and no one outside the High Council has known of the poll until now.

U.S. NAVY ACCEPTS GIANT AIRSHIP

MACON COMMISSIONED
LAST WEEK

WASHINGTON, June 20.
The Navy department to-day
formally accepted the airship Macon, and announced that the big dirigible, the world's largest, would be commissioned June 23 at Akron, O.

The Macon then is to proceed to Lakehurst, N. J., where it will remain for several months before proceeding not later than October 30 to its permanent base at Sunnyvale, California.

The Macon, sister ship of the Akron, which was destroyed in a storm off the New Jersey coast in April with the loss of 73 lives, will be commanded by Commander Alger Dressel.

The Macon was virtually completed when the Akron was destroyed and there was talk of junking the dirigible. But a joint congressional inquiry committee gave naval aviation a clean bill of health. The ship is 785 feet long.

Last week's 49-hour training cruise over the Middle West to Chicago from Akron was made without incident. After the Macon's departure to Sunnyvale the Akron's old base at Lakehurst is to be put out of commission.

"WE WANT OUR BEER!"

14 U.S. States Now Favour Repeal of Prohibition

New York, June 21.
The following states have voted wet:—

- 1.—Michigan
- 2.—Wisconsin
- 3.—Rhode Island
- 4.—Illinois
- 5.—Delaware
- 6.—New Jersey
- 7.—New York
- 8.—Nevada
- 9.—Wyoming
- 10.—Indiana
- 11.—Massachusetts
- 12.—Iowa
- 13.—New Hampshire
- 14.—Connecticut

States voting dry:

None.

Traditionally dry Iowa, New Hampshire and Connecticut all voted overwhelmingly wet in yesterday's elections, final returns showed to-day, bringing to fourteen the number of states favouring repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Iowa held the hopes of prohibition leaders to halt the movement toward repeal. Not one state to vote on the proposal to end the thirteen-year national prohibition experiment has voted against the repeal amendment, sent to the states for a decision by Congress in February.

Thirty-six of the 48 states must ratify the repeal to cancel the eighteenth amendment.

Iowa Votes 3 to 2

Iowa elected 99 wet delegates to a convention to be held at Des Moines on July 10, the vote, as compiled by the Associated Press, being 308,691 for repeal to 242,612
for continuance of prohibition.

The sentiment of New Hampshire voters was decisively expressed as they have a majority of more than two to one to delegates favouring repeal in yesterday's statewide election. Ten delegates pledged to repeal were elected over dry opponents by a vote of 75,969 to 30,837.

In Connecticut a complete slate of fifty delegates pledged to vote for repeal at a convention at Hartford July 11 was chosen by a landslide of ballots, 236,842 for repeal to 5,319 against.

300-MILE TREK IN DESERT
TRESPASSER ON DIAMOND AREA CHASED BY CONSTABLE
Luderitz, June 6.—A farmer's journey on foot over 300 miles of desert and a police constable's pertinacious chase over 240 miles of waterless and uninhabited country, were casually mentioned in the police court here when Pierre Leriche, aged 36, a farmer of Warmbad was charged with trespassing in the diamond area and sentenced to pay a fine of £30 or serve a term of six months imprisonment.
Constable J. van Zyl described a patrol he made. He picked up a "veldschool" (sandal shoe) spoor and followed it over the sand dunes from the Fish

THE LITTLE GIANT

Comedy of a Chicago bootleg baron who retires under the Roosevelt régime and goes in for Culture in a Big Way, but finds that even the best people have their racket. The picture uses a machine-gun technique, and if one shot misses, the next is dead sure to get its mark. The weakness is an attempt to take the love interest seriously; if we could just laugh at that one thing more, the film would be a grand cavalcade of America's absurdities.

THE SONG OF THE EAGLE

A saga of American beer and American bootleggers. It is a bit difficult for European audiences to get the particular heroic slant of these liquor epics to about ninety-two million otherwise reasonable people, but we do get the feeling that we are up against an urgent national problem. The acting isn't good enough to make us worry much how it works out in individual cases.

CENTRAL AIRPORT

First-class commercial hokum, that gets better as it goes along, and ends with a scene of an airplane landing in the fog, guided by a thousand motor horns, that the air-traffic may accept as a classic of contrapuntal sound in about six months' time. William Wellman directs crisply and melodramatically. Richard Barthelmess and Sally Eilers almost trick you into believing in their facile emotions; and the story-writer whacks up his excitement at a good pace.

POSSESSED

This film was made and shown in America in Clark Gable's early days as a heroic lover, but a new and purer version has been prepared for the English market. Here you may see the honest working-girl, secretly married to the rich young politician, and learning under his tuition how to pronounce "champneys" correctly; how to sing a love-song in French, German, and English, and how to eat ice-cream with a fork. Nobly disowning him when he runs for Governor, she stands up and clears his name of scandal at a public meeting, after which they embrace on the back stairs, and we are left happy in the assurance that Come What Will, They Will Be Together. Epatant! Wunderbar! Dandy!

terrified at the thought of impending repeal, and the consequent unemployment wave among bootleggers, is forcing all its customers to take more liquor than they can use.

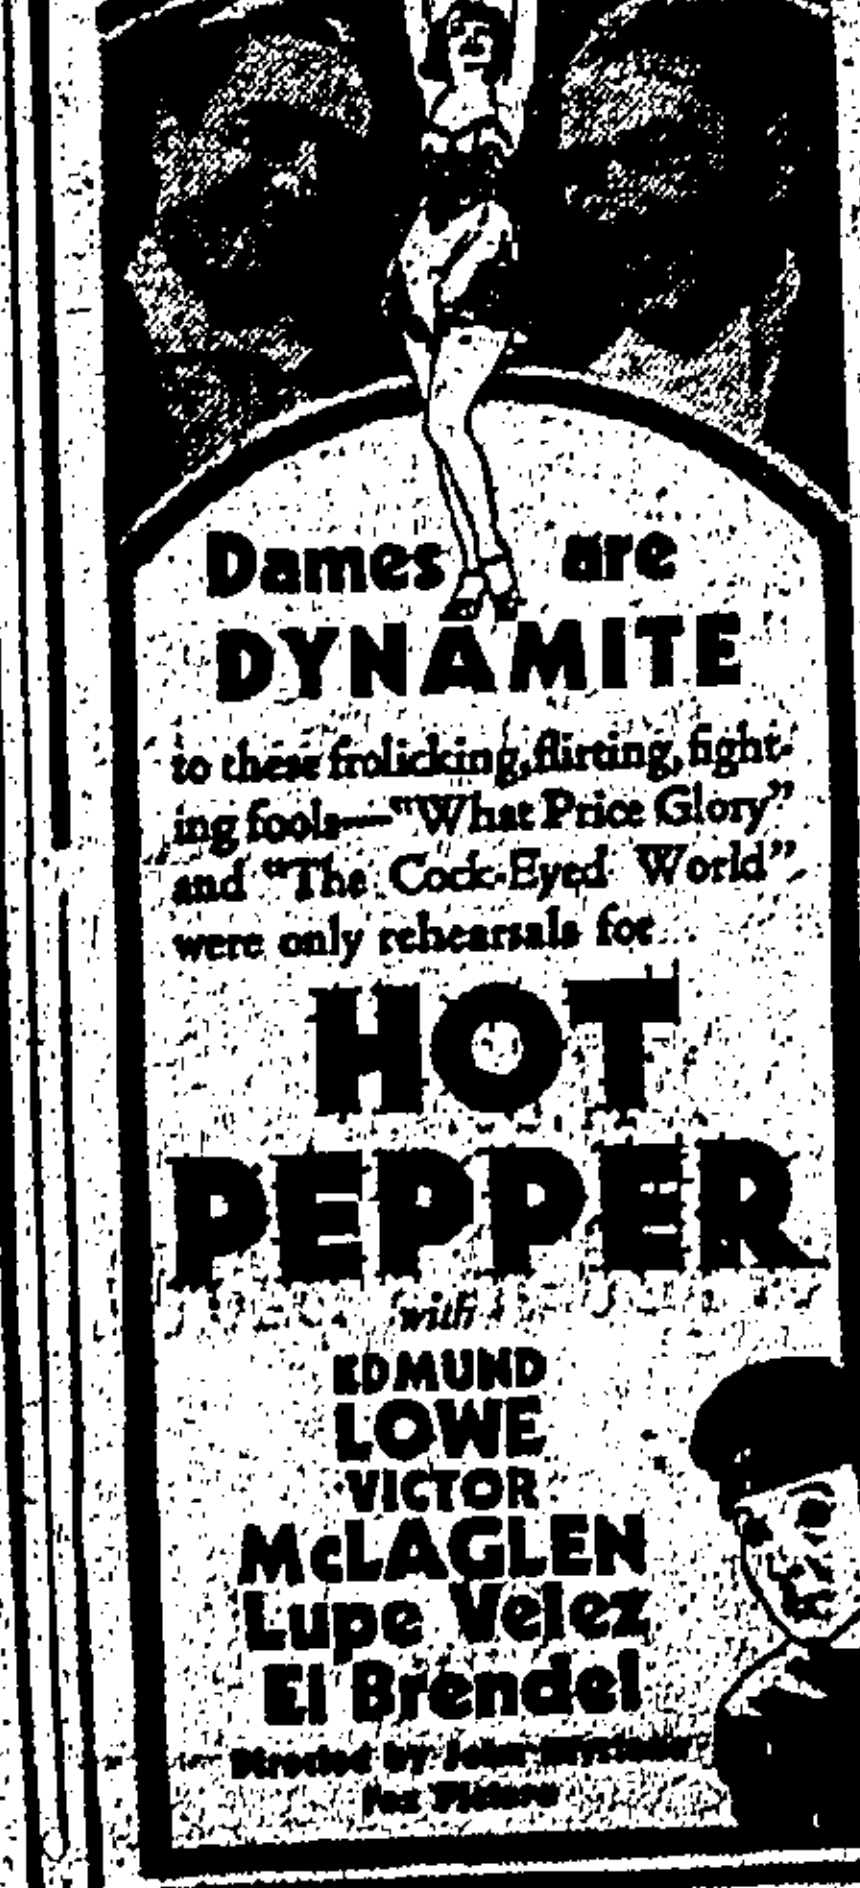

Miss Skipworth puts the liquor boys to flight in hysterically amusing fashion.

A romance between Miss Maritza and Taylor, cousin of the son of an American millionaire, runs throughout the picture.

Without mechanisation, the great part of the world's existing population would never have been born.—Prof. T. E. Gregory.

"ROME EXPRESS"
AT THE KING'STHRILLER THAT MOVES
FASTER AND FASTER

Railway travelling has one thing about it that we take for granted. Accidents do of course happen, but ordinarily speaking a train is as safe as your house. Most of us find it boring, and unless you have a wagon lit, at night it is positively uncomfortable. The din, the cramped quarters, the utter lack of privacy all get on your nerves, and in "Rome Express," that one sure foundation, safety, is removed. Crooks are hunting crooks, and fighting over a stolen van Dyke. To the rest of the passengers—the clapping couple, not very sure of each other, the nerve strained film star and the harassed secretary of a vile millionaire, the journey becomes not a nightmare but the lower regions of the Inferno. The great train is a veritable instrument of destiny, strong and ruthless, while the men and women inside it fight and quarrel, like galley slaves at their benches. They may be cooks, waiters or passengers, important or unimportant, but the train submerges them all and eats their individuality. That is art, and very fine art, for the director has his players well in hand. They all act well, and perhaps Harker, as the amiable bore, who blunders into every delicate and awkward situation, was perhaps the best of them all.

Starting like the train itself, a to slowly, the action gathers speed. Faster and faster it moves, like the Red Queen in "Alice Through the Looking Glass"—and all to remain in the same place—an Elstree studio! But you forget that, and you watch, as the crowded audiences yesterday watched, breathlessly, till at last the great train draws slowly into its terminus, and awaits more adventures on the way back. For by the end one gets the idea that this homeless monster could never cover its iron roadway without strange doings aboard.

AT THE QUEEN'S THEATRE

"THE WISER SEX"

It's something different to the ordinary run of pictures and most entertaining. Claudette Colbert, always refined and dignified, rises to new heights in "The Wiser Sex."

Miss Colbert, who is the leading lady in this, plays opposite Melvyn Douglas, who is her fiancé. She thinks he is devoting too much of his time to his duty. Piqued, she sails for Europe with an admirer and her mother. Rankled by his sweetheart's absence, Douglas launches his campaign with renewed vigour, thereby endangering his life. His position is made more precarious when his cousin Francis Tane becomes infatuated with Lilyan Tashman, a chorus girl and onetime friend of Douglas, now the darling of an underworld chief. In a breathless climax the lady has timed things so that the hunter becomes the hunted, and the intended prey is in complete command of the situation. The cast is an excellent one and we recommend "The Wiser Sex" for a good evening's entertainment.

The ladies will be more than interested in the stunning gowns worn by both the Stars.

We also wish to make special mention of the splendid cooling system installed. We understand it is the very latest. Do not miss this excellent picture, it surpasses anything we have seen for a long time.

"NOT MAKING FILMS"

(Special Air-Mail Service)

LONDON, June 8.

Mr. Douglas Fairbanks and his son, Douglas, landed at Southampton last night from the liner Europa. They have come to Europe for a holiday before embarking on a big game hunting expedition in British East Africa.

"THE WOMAN BETWEEN"FRENCH DRAMA OF WIFE AND DAUGHTER

Radio Pictures' "The Woman Between," concludes its showing at the Central Theatre to-day.

The picture tells the story of a young and beautiful French modiste, played by Lily Damita, who marries a wealthy widower and incurs the bitter, unrelenting hatred of his daughter.

The new wife is subjected to evil innuendo, to social ostracisms, secret intrigues and headless campaign of degradation.

The cast includes Lester Vail, O. P. Heggie, Lincoln Steadman, Blanche Frederici, Ruth Weston, and Miriam Seegar. The picture, which was adapted from the Broadway play by Irving Keyes Davis, was directed by Victor Schertzinger, as his first assignment on his Radio Pictures' contract.

When they finally discover that the family fortune has shrunk to a lean zero, they decide to go to America to recoup. Young is sent on first, and when Miss Skipworth and Miss Maritza arrive on America shores, they find him running an unprofitable speakeasy. Not at all certain of how or why it's done, Miss Skipworth sets about putting the enterprise on its feet. Her major problem is her battle with a liquor syndicate, which, (Continued on next column) story.

"I should like to make a film in England," he stated, "but I always do such crazy wild stuff in out-of-the-way places."

Douglas, junior, is at work on a romantic novel, the first he has ever written.

"I cannot you what it will be called," he said. "I am just writing it for amusement."

Mr. Fairbanks, senior, stated that he had not brought his wife, Mary Pickford, with him because she does not like travelling.

MORE CITIZENS FOR ITALY!

MUSSOLINI'S CAMPAIGN GETS RESULTS!

CURIOUS PRESS CAMPAIGN

Rome.—The increase of population has become a fad in Italy with high and low. Births are cause for popular demonstrations and multiple births for newspaper ballyhoo. Mussolini's campaign for more Italians has gathered momentum.

Signora Antonietta Coppola of Foggia, aged 30 just gave birth to five children, three boys and two girls—all doing well. Angelo Galletti aged 33, has just become the father of a little girl. "Congratulations" ran the banner headlines of some of the Italian newspapers the other day celebrating these recent examples of prolificity.

The demographic campaign for the increase in both number and quality of the Italian race is in full progress, and press announcements like the above are becoming quite common.

There has been created a special "natality" prize or birth-rate premium for parents bringing twins, triplets or more children at a time into the world.

The Press Joins In.

The press of the country harps on the advantages of large families for the individuals and the state, while childless parents or parents who have only one child are held up as more or less unsatisfactory members of the society. Childless parents are called in a phrase of Mussolini which had immediate success with the press the "dead branches" of the tree of human life.

Every day the entire daily press of the country carries the birth, death and marriage statistics not only as a dry column of figures but as a news story.

All cases of triplets are immediately reported and become the cause for jubilation. The parents are congratulated and called "excellent citizens," while the high birth rate prize is given to them. In addition, in some provinces there are special prizes offered by the local authorities or by patriotic citizens. The photographs of mothers of triplets and often even of twins are constantly reproduced in the press.

Bachelors are taxed irrespective of their social class, though the amount depends on their financial standing. Thus a young man of wealthy family who spends his time in "riotous living" but prefers single blessedness is mulcted by the state for what it considers as his selfishness. Spinsters are not taxed for being spinsters, as it is presumed they would all marry if they were asked.

Slim Figures Ridiculed.

A regular press campaign, evidently approved of if not inspired by the authorities, has lately been launched against the prevailing fashion for the slim figure in women. Thin women as such are the butt of the papers, comic and otherwise. These slim women are called "women of the crisis" (do-na crisi) with the implied suggestion that they are half starved.

The reason behind the campaign, which has run to extraordinary proportions, is of course, the belief that the woman who is slim and thinks more of the lines of her figure than anything else is not likely to be a good mother for the race. She is not evidently the type which is likely to have twins, triplets or even quintuplets like Signora Antonietta Coppola of Foggia, whose photograph has been broadcast all over Italy.

No Birth Control.

Birth control, which is making progress in most countries, is at standstill in Italy. The government has deliberately set its face against any propaganda in favor of it.

Not only are no advertisements on the subject allowed in the papers, but literary matter on birth control is not allowed to be exhibited in the shops or stores. No lectures or writings on the subject must appear, and, in fact, the whole matter is strictly taboo. Fresh penalties of a severer nature have recently been introduced for illegal operations or attempts at abortion, and banishment to the penal islands has been meted out recently in several cases to women who have engaged in illicit practices of this kind.

Special Privileges.

Fathers of large families enjoy special advantage over other parents. They are exempt from all but a minimum of taxation after they have had seven children. A man with as many as ten children pays practically no taxes at all. Moreover, facilities of other kinds are granted to parents of large families, including reduced rates for trolley-car rides and motor-bus fares.

A big ideal is of course behind all this propaganda for increased birth-rate. Mussolini has frequently stated that a nation's future cannot be secured without a steadily increasing birth-rate. On this belief the Fascist demographic policy has been built, and at present it completely rules the country.

Statistics show, moreover, that the propaganda is producing good results, for the birth-rate evidences a steady increase, if not one to the extent desired by the Fascist authorities.

The population of Rome has steadily increased in the last few years, and is now well over the million mark.

THE DUTCH MAIL

MASS MEETING OF CROWS

THE REMODELLING OF THE JOHAN DE WITT

A CEYLON BEACH PHENOMENON

As previously announced, the "Nederland" Royal Mail Line (N.V. Stoomvaart Maatschappij "Nederland"), is recommissioning the s.s. Johan de Witt to replace the s.s. P. C. Hoof. To increase the speed of the Johan de Witt to a point more in keeping with that of the new motor-ships of this line, the "body" of the ship will be remodelled. At the same time the passenger quarters will be redecorated in a style more becoming to present-day requirements.

The most important improvement besides the rebuilding of several of the cabins in the first and second classes, which will thereby be made more spacious, is the addition of a children's nursery and a special children's playground for the second class passengers on the highest deck, and the fitting up of a sports deck. To this end, the sick-bay will be removed to another deck and the space thus set free used as a nursery. By moving the boats to a higher deck an unbroken open space in made available, of which the fore end will be used as a children's deck, and the after end as a sports deck. The children's deck is connected directly with the promenade deck by two companion ladders.

The existing second class children's deck, lying abait the smoking room, will be merged with the promenade deck, as a result of which the walking space around the smoking and music rooms will be materially enlarged; and at the same time the fittings of these two rooms will be somewhat modified and improved.

The third class smoking room and (Continued on next Column)

There was a unique spectacle at Weligama, Ceylon, when myriads of crows assembled on the beach. Throughout the afternoon the birds came in countless numbers, resting on telegraph posts and roof tops, and fishing boats, their invasion terrifying other birds who were evidently as greatly puzzled by the phenomenon as humans were.

At sunset the crows took to the wing and for half an hour flew low in swooping circles. So thick was the air with birds, that they struck the faces of cyclists and pedestrians and the windcreens of motor-buses and cars. At dusk the black mass rose high into the air, and flew away inland.

Such a phenomenon has never been witnessed in Weligama before and people are greatly puzzled as to the cause of it. Some aver that it was a mass meeting of crows to protest against the scarcity of food due to the depression.

saloon will be enlarged by including the space now occupied by the cabins lying aft of them. The number of cabins in this class will be increased by adding several of the second class cabins on Deck E to the third class accommodations, while some of the present first class cabins will be allotted to the second class.

These improvements will be made after the arrival of the ship at Amsterdam on July 23 next, and as a consequence the departure from Southampton scheduled to take place on August 4 and that from Singapore on September 5 will be cancelled. The ship will leave Southampton for the first time in its renovated form on October 27 and Batavia on December 8.

GREAT GRANDSON OF DICKENS

Romantic Oratory Wedding

BRIDE WHO EVADED PUBLICITY

LONDON, June 6.
At Brompton Oratory yesterday twenty members of the famous novelist, Charles Dickens attended the quiet wedding of his great-grandson, Mr. Robin Dickens Bouchier Hawksley, grandson of Sir Henry Dickens, formerly Common-Sergeant of London, and of the late Bouchier Hawksley, who was solicitor to Cecil Rhodes.

His bride was Miss Dorothy North, an orphan, whom he had met at a dance in the Fulham Town Hall last January. She was then in domestic service, and refused to leave a mistress she had faithfully served for six years until a long notice had been given. That notice expired only on Tuesday this week, and the wedding was arranged for the day before the Whitsuntide holidays began.

The wedding took place at noon, two hours before the time publicly announced.

Family's Welcome.

The courage of the bride had failed her when she heard that great public interest was being taken in her marriage, and yesterday morning she had gone to the Oratory to ask that the wedding should take place earlier. Immediate preparations were made for the ceremony, and when the Press photographers and reporters arrived shortly before two, they were told that the wedding was over.

On the bride's arrival at the Oratory for the wedding the presence of a young man who, as she said, "looked like a photographer," caused her to slip into the church by a side entrance. She left with her bridegroom by the same door.

Mr. Hawksley is a Roman Catholic, and his bride, who was a member of the Church of England, has been received into the Roman Catholic Church.

Lady Dickens and Mrs. Hawksley attended the wedding. At the time her son's engagement was announced Mrs. Hawksley had said:

"I have no old-fashioned ideas about my future daughter-in-law's position."

"The fact that she is a girl of strong character and a hard worker gives me every reason to welcome her in my family. Such a girl must make a good wife."

There was no reception, and almost immediately the bride and bridegroom left for Brighton, where the honeymoon will be spent.

Among the wedding gifts were a few first editions of Dickens' works, a present from Mrs. Hawksley, to her son's wife.

WITHDRAWAL IN NORTH CHINA

JAPANESE PLANES WATCH PROGRESS

Peiping, June 13.
Both Japanese and Chinese armies in North China are withdrawing from the demilitarized zone gradually, according to reports here. The Japanese aeroplanes are flying daily over the Chinese positions to see that the armistice agreements are being carried out.

It is reported that the Japanese troops in the Tungchow and Shuni districts have withdrawn to Yutien and Miyun, where they are concentrating. When the Chinese complete their withdrawal, the Japanese will further withdraw to the Great Wall, it is said.

The Japanese along the Ningbo river are still at the position held at the time of signing of the agreement.

The Peiping, Lianing railway is now operated between Shanhaikuan and Hanku as the track between Lutai and Hanku was repaired Friday. Trains from Shanhaikuan will go as far as Tangshan shortly, it is expected. The pro-Manchukuo volunteers under Gen. Ting Chiang are now between Lutai and Tangshan. — United Press.

A Mystery Solved.

There has been much to-do in British papers about Bleanbury, "the hamlet which houses so many spinsters." Here is the solution of the mystery.

On the village green there is a cottage which years ago was bequeathed by a misanthrope to "the oldest bachelor" to be occupied by him until his death. He is not debarrd from marriage. Consequently, the village maidens in turn lay siege to the occupant, in the hope of securing a husband and a home at one and the same time. And that, is the real reason for so many of the girls playing a waiting game. Down to the present time there has always been one who did not wait in vain.

OPPORTUNITY

COME TO TEACH

COME TO LEARN

From July 17th to 22nd, there will be assembled in London at Olympia... the greatest Exhibition Hall in the world... the most modern Advertising and Marketing knowledge and material ever collected beneath one roof...

You will learn how scientifically applied advertising in the Home country is revolutionising production and sales quotas. Inevitably you will "pick up" much to adopt and adapt to your own specific "local" purposes.

You will have something of supreme value and interest to offer the Home Manufacturer and Advertising Agent in the Empire Section of the Exhibition: your account of conditions overseas, of the trade crosscurrents that affect your marketing schemes, and the methods you employ to overcome vital sales problems.

At the Great Convention based on "Advertising and World Recovery," men of practical experience and seasoned outlook will debate on matters of major interest concerning selling and publicity... every phase of which will be dealt with fully and authoritatively.

Come with your experience. It is the primary purpose of the Exhibition that by personal contact and by mutual exchange of opinions with Principals we may both teach... and learn.

CHELSEA BRIDGE IN FLAMES

The southern span of Chelsea bridge was in flames for nearly an hour on Sunday, June 4, and barricades were erected to stop traffic. The bridge is under repair, and the fire broke out among woodwork beneath the roadway.

Fire engines and two fire floats had difficulty in playing directly on the seat of the flames, and firemen were lowered with ropes over the sides of the bridge to play on the fire.

For some time concern was felt for the safety of the two tiny dwelling houses, built in the end pillars of the bridge, about 30 yards from the fire.

WILBUR WRIGHT MEMORIAL

LECTURE AND PRESENTATION OF MEDALS

(Special Air-Mail Service)

LONDON, June 6.

The twenty-first Wilbur Wright memorial lecture was read by Colonel F. P. Lahm, Air Corps, U.S. Army, last night before the Royal Aeronautical Society at its meeting held in the Royal Institution.

Before the lecture the following medals were presented by the president (Mr. C. R. Fairley):—

Gold Medal of the Society, to Sir Richard Glazebrook, on his retirement from the chairmanship of the Aeronautical Research Committee, which he has held since the foundation of the committee in 1900.

Simms Gold Medal (for the best paper read before the society on any science allied to aeronautics), to Mr. P. Salmon, for his paper on Catapults.

Wakefield Gold Medal (for inventions or apparatus tending towards safety in flying), to Mr. L. G. Frise, for his invention of the Frise aileron.

Taylor Gold Medal (for the most valuable paper of the year), to Dr. G. V. Lachmann, for his paper on "Control Beyond the Stall."

Silver Medal (for advance in aeronautical design), to each of the following:—Senior J. de la Cierve, for his work in the design and development of the autogiro; Mr. A. H. R. Pedden, for his work on the air-cooled engine, resulting in the attainment of a record height of over 40,000 ft. in September, 1932; Mr. D. L. Hollis-Williams, who was responsible for the design of the Fairey long-range monoplane, which holds the world's long-distance record of 5,300 miles.

The newly-founded British Silver Medal for Aeronautics, to Flight Lieutenant C. P. Uwins for reaching the world record height in September.

ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE CONCERT

SPLENDID ORCHESTRA PERFORMANCE

A concert was given by the students of St. Stephen's College (Boys) in the Hall of their sister school, Lyttelton Road, on Saturday night.

The School Orchestra, with Mr. F. A. Britton as conductor, gave a finished performance. Special mention should be made of the student saxophone soloist, Yang Tong Hai, Mr. Li Chor Chi, an old boy, delighted with his tenor solos, and Miss N. Flint, violin teacher to the College, gave of her best. A school string band also played creditably, led by Lim Yong.

A short Chinese play, written and presented by the students and directed by Mr. C. H. Tam and Y. H. Leung, fully maintained the tradition of St. Stephen's College in this art. Included in the play was some remarkable conjuring, in the style of Maskelyne and Devant, in which real talent was displayed. The audience demanded more of this, and S. T. Lim and W. N. Cheung gave a special item. Messrs. J. and R. Baldwin and F. Dunn sang solos; and the Middle and Upper Schools of St. Stephen's Girls' College contributed a sketch and a song. The latter, the "Gypsy Song," from Carmen, was the prize song in a recent competition for girls' singing in Hong Kong, and this rendering by the winning choir was enthusiastically received.

The concert was in aid of a dispensary for Stanley Village; the School Musical Society, and in particular for a New Hostel for St. Stephen's College at Stanley. For the latter object alone over $7,000 was contributed.

Among those who contributed valuable assistance were:—The Sincere Co. (Decorations); Colonial Electric Co. (wiring); Dairy Farm, Ltd. (ice-cream); Blue Bird Co. and Canadian Cafe (refreshments).

Programme.

The programme was as follows:—

1. (a) Stony Point March. Lauredeau.

(b) Minuet. Valensin.

2. Trios. The Orchestra.

U.S. EVANGELIST VISITING HONG KONG

DR. FRENCH E. OLIVER TO SPEAK AT LELAND WANG'S HALL

A recent cablegram from the world-famous Evangelist and Bible Teacher, the Rev. Dr. French E. Oliver, who has conducted great evangelistic campaigns both in Britain and America, contains the information that he is now en route to China to participate in various meetings and conferences during the summer and autumn in Shanghai, Kuling, Peitaiho and other centres.

Dr. Oliver is a passenger on the Glen Line steamer, Glenifer, which is due to arrive in Hong Kong at noon to-day, proceeding to Shanghai tomorrow afternoon.

A meeting has been arranged for Dr. Oliver, at which he will speak by interpretation, in the Preaching Hall of Mr. Leland Wang, 11 Bonham Road (near St. Stephen's Girls' School), this evening at 7.30 o'clock, to which both foreigners and Chinese are cordially invited.

I sometimes fear lest the gods should become jealous of all the tremendous things that are now being done by one poor little human being.—The Hon. Robert Ley.

tember last, and to Squadron Leader O. R. Gayford and Flight Lieutenant G. E. Nichollette, who flew non-stop from Cranwell to Walvis Bay in the long-distance monoplane.

After the lecture the annual dinner of the council was held at the Hyde Park Hotel.

CHINESE PRIEST KIDNAPPED

MISTAKEN BY BANDITS FOR MACAO MERCHANT

"About a week ago Father Loui, a Chinese Catholic priest working in the Sai Lam District, under the protection of the Mission of Macao, had occasion to travel up country to one of his community who was to administer the Sacrament. He went by boat, accompanied by two Chinese Christian servants. Returning to the boat, he was met by a man, who pointed a revolver at him.

Father Loui was arrested by this man, and his outer garments were removed; he was then manacled and forced to lie down on the bottom of the boat so that he could get no idea in which direction they were going.

Later on he was removed to another boat, manned by a gang of bandits.

His servants were released and reported that the bandits thought they had got hold of a rich Chinese merchant from Macao.

No further news has been received, and up to now nothing further has been heard of Father Loui."

CURING INSANITY BY MALARIA

OPERATIONS ON MOSQUITOS

A surgical operation on mosquitos, so delicate that it must be performed under the microscope, is the latest step in treatment of human insanity, known as paresis.

The mosquito operation, announced by the American Public Health Service, provides a new method of combating one disease with another. It was described as making possible a more efficient and less costly means of helping paresis sufferers by infecting them with malaria, a treatment used successfully for several years to combat this form of insanity.

Formerly paresis patients were infected with malaria by allowing them to be bitten by mosquitos which carried the disease. The malaria has the effect of arresting the progress of the insanity by acting on a blood disease that causes it, and statistics show it has cured 35 per cent. of cases that were not too far advanced.

The operation on the mosquitos consists of removing their salivary glands, which are so small that they cannot be seen until magnified at least twenty times. The malarin germs are carried by the mosquitos in these glands, and surgeons can use the gland contents to give paresis patients "artificial mosquito bites."

The artificial bites are preferable to real ones, because the glands are made into a serum, easier to ship than live mosquitos, which sometimes die in transit. The live insects are difficult to handle and sometimes escape, with consequent danger of spreading malaria.

The mosquito used in the experiment is specially bred under sanitary conditions; and then allowed to bite persons who have malaria. The mosquitos pick up some malarin germs, and these develop in its salivary glands. Then the mosquito is placed under ether and operated upon. The glands are removed and made into a serum, which is injected into the veins of paresis patients. One mosquito's glands contain enough malarin germs to inoculate about twelve paresis cases.

The serum keeps well, enough at a temperature of 40 to 50 deg. Fahrenheit to allow shipment all over the country.—Reuter.

SHARING MARKETS WITH JAPAN

EXCHANGE OF VIEWS ON BRITISH PLAN.

(Special Air-Mail Service)

WESTMINSTER, June 6.

Mr. Colville, Secretary to the Department of Overseas Trade, replying to a debate in the House of Commons to-day on Japanese competition against textiles and other British goods, stated that this subject was discussed in April by the President of the Board of Trade and the Japanese Ambassador. Mr. Runciman made it plain that the Government viewed the position as one of great difficulty to British industry.

A conference was proposed between the industrial interests of the two countries with a view to mutual allocation of world markets. To the first place the Japanese Government had been asked to consider this suggestion and state their views. A reply had been received and was now being considered.

THE SIAMESE REVOLUTION

MESSAGE OF LOYALTY TO THE THRONE

BANGKOK, June 21.

Just a year after last June's coup d'etat which resulted in the promulgation of a constitution, the government of Siam again changed hands to-day in a bloodless revolt.

Army and navy officers and civilians, led by Phya Bahol, the army commander in chief who resigned last week, took control. All the state councillors whom King Prajadhipok appointed in April resigned and Bahol became acting chief executive.

The revolutionists claimed the ousted government was unconstitutional and proposed immediate reconstitution of the assembly, with the members chosen by popular vote.

They sent a message to King Prajadhipok, who is on vacation at Hua-hin, assuring him of their loyalty and asserting their move was aimed at seeing the constitution observed.

Phya Bahol took a leading part in last June's coup, which converted one of the world's remaining absolute monarchies into a constitutional, limited democracy.

The officials ousted to-day were put in office April 2 by royal decree, displacing the young idealists led by Luang Pradit, who instigated the 1932 coup and whose tendencies since have been toward the extreme left. Their places were taken by older men regarded as liberals but not as socialists or communists.

King Prajadhipok's decree organized a new state council headed by Phya Manopakaras and other ministers of the last cabinet under the old absolute monarchy whose tendencies have been more conservative. The April crisis arose when Pradit presented an economic plan for the government which the conservative element regarded as a compromise between democracy and communism.

The coup of last June 24 resulted in a constitution limiting the powers of the king, ousting the royal princes from positions of power, providing full franchise for the people, and an elected parliament to which the ministers were to be responsible.

Prajadhipok, who has been on the throne since 1925, signed the constitution agreement. June 24, marking the end of a long reign under contemplation for some time. Last November 19 it was promulgated in final form, removing the likelihood he would abdicate. It provided for the appointment of an executive committee by the ruler and permitted him to dissolve the national legislature.

The king was on vacation at Hua-hin when the coup of a year ago took place.

NEW WATER SUPPLY

FURTHER AMENITIES FOR PORT DICKSON

SINGAPORE, June 17.

A further link to the chain of amenities at Port Dickson, which at one time formed the only convenient health resort for Europeans in the Malay States, but which has now to face the competition of the new water supply scheme by the British Government, was added to-day with the inauguration of the Rembau Coast water supply scheme by the British Resident, the hon. Mr. G. E. London on behalf of his highness the Yang di Per Tunn Besar of Negri Sembilan who was prevented from attending owing to the indisposition of his mother, Che Puan.

The opening of the water supply caused the water to flow in the form of a fountain from the aerator with three tiers of trays.

The filter house was next inspected after which champagne was served.

The party then proceeded to Port Dickson in Perhentian Tinggi and Rantau inspecting the pipe line on the way and the reservoir at Siruca. Lunch was taken at Rhu Lodge where a Malay curry tiffin was served.

TIMOR HORRORS

RAJA EXILED FOR CRUELTY TO SUBJECTS

MEDAN, June 10.

The Raja of a district in mid-Timor, whose cruelty to his subjects has been the subject of investigation by a couple of native chiefs, has been sent to exile for 20 years.

When the Raja was informed of the sentence he tried to commit suicide by stabbing himself. He was taken immediately to hospital, where he underwent an operation.

A message of May 28 said: A native Raja in Timor has been suspected from his duties for terrible cruelty to his subjects. It is alleged that he ordered the burying alive of one man, other people to be kept in prison until they starved to death, and also detained people in a private prison.

THE PENALTY OF SUCCESS

Anti-Opium Official Transferred

MAN WHO CLEARED THE DISTRICT

Luchowfu, An.—Reports have come from Geneva that the Chinese delegate there has announced that China is willing to eradicate the opium evil and the drug traffic in China, and that a comprehensive campaign to accomplish this will shortly be undertaken. People who reside in the interior where opium is grown and used extensively realise that the abolition of opium-smoking is very closely related to the improvement of the country. A section which raises and consumes opium cannot also raise other goods for export to as great an extent as would be otherwise possible. When there are few goods for export from an interior district, the imports to that district immediately fall, business and transportation are hampered and shops close. These conditions have been most obvious in this district during the past few years. Under the régime of Chen Tiao Yuan as provincial chairman the production of opium increased rapidly until last year the area under this crop was tremendous in Anhwei. This year, with the assistance of direct control by the Central Government a complete change has come over the district.

A Clear Cup.

This district of which Luchowfu is the centre is a good example of what can be done by an official who sets to work with a purpose. The magistrate or mayor as the district head is sometimes called has been responsible for a general clean-up. More publicity and credit should be given to officials who bestir themselves and accomplish what Mr. Wang Bao Chai has done in this district. He has completely eliminated the poppy from the larger part of the district in one season. Such an accomplishment is no small one when the vested interests who oppose it are considered, and the farmers who resist in every way, even in open rebellion at times.

Direct Action.

Magistrate Wang took his soldiers out to different parts of the district and personally supervised the destruction of the poppy crops. The difference between this kind of an official and the more common ones who stay in their yamen and themselves smoke the forbidden drug, indicates the line along which the movement to eradicate the evil must go.

Magistrate Wang Bao Chai not only eliminated the poppy fields from the landscape, but accomplished the far more difficult task of wiping out the small bandits from the district. This was done by the simple method of boldly attacking the bandit strongholds and promptly beheading all members of the fraternity.

As is true the world over, any official who attacks deeply entrenched evils promptly meets up with opposition. A petition was circulated by those apparently hit by his good work requesting the removal of this vigorous official. Whether it was due to this local opposition, or not, this too-effective officer has been removed to Wuhu. Let us hope he has been promoted to a place where his talent for bringing order and probity out of China's chaos can be given a wide scope.—N.C.D.N.

The "Imperial" is designed and made in England by people who understand English requirements. Foreign made typewriters, imported from countries using the metric system, lack such typically English signs as "1". In construction, the "Imperial" is a "sound British engineering job" — with all that the phrase implies.

THE BALTIC EXCHANGE

The London Exchanges are the pivot of Great Britain's commercial life, and for this reason no foreign visitor to England who is interested in commercial affairs should omit to see such of them as permit visits by non-members.

Their origin was humble enough, most of them being born in the old coffee houses in the City, which, by putting "subscription-rooms" at the disposal of groups of their customers with similar interests, represented the earliest form of the English club. There the famous Lloyds transacted its business in the early days, as did the Stock Exchange when, in the eighteenth century the original Royal Exchange could no longer accommodate the growing business activities of the City. That most cosmopolitan of all London's Exchanges, the Baltic, which was founded more than 200 years ago, originated in two coffee houses called respectively the "Jerusalem" and the "Virginia" and Baltic, taking their names because they were mainly frequented by merchants trading with the near East, America and the Baltic ports.

In the old days much of the Baltic business was transacted in the section of the Royal Exchange known as "Baltic Walk," but by the year 1810 business had expanded so enormously that the Baltic was forced to transfer its activities to larger premises, moving into a building in Threadneedle Street. In 1900, a merger between the London Shipping Exchange and the Baltic having been effected, the new combine took the title of "Baltic Mercantile and Shipping Exchange," and opened its present magnificent building in St. Mary Axe. There the plan was adopted of letting out the upper stories to firms concerned in the business transacted on the Exchange. The Chamber of Shipping also has its quarters there, consisting of a suite of offices and a large council hall. Below the Exchange is an auction room for the sale of ships, and in the large luncheon hall members meet to discuss affairs over their meal. In the central hall, where only members are admitted, are displayed the latest news of the grain trade as well as reports from Lloyds respecting the movements of ships.

The name Baltic is today, of course, a misnomer, for members of the Exchange deal in commodities from every part of the world. Not without reason has the Baltic been called "the brain of all the seas," for indeed the world's sea-borne traffic is largely conducted from "the Floor," as the immense marble hall of this Exchange is called. Being the centre of the world's freight markets, the Baltic also becomes the centre of the grain markets, for these two are so intimately connected as to be the complement of each other. The chief commodities dealt in, then, are freights that important item in Great Britain's invisible exports, and cereals, but the transactions also include oil, ships, etc.

The membership of the Baltic in the old days was 550, but now its membership is over 2,500, and includes business men of all nationalities. The facilities of the Baltic are so comprehensive that, to quote from the interesting work on "The Exchange of London" by S.W. Dowling, it is possible for a member "to go to one part of 'the Floor' to buy grain, to another to charter a ship, to yet another to arrange insurance, and finally to sell and take the profit without having left 'the floor'." The grain dealt in at the Baltic is of foreign growth, dealings in home-grown cereals being confined to another Exchange, the Corn Exchange.

Strangely enough, samples of the goods offered for sale at the Baltic cannot be seen there. Another peculiarity is that all transactions are by word of mouth, written contracts never appearing at the Baltic, and it is a proof of the inherent honesty of the Englishman as trader that scarcely ever does a dispute arise which cannot be easily adjusted.

KAIFENG NEWS

Advantages of Knowing Chinese!PLANES AND CARS IN CHINA

(From Our Own Correspondent)

KAIFENG, June 16.
An illustration of the great value of business men having a good knowledge of the Chinese spoken and written language has just been shown here. Mr. F. K. Heinrichs, of the firm, Deutsche Farben-Handels-Gesellschaft, Wabbel & Co., arrived in Kaifeng some ten weeks ago to put up a struggle to suppress the sale of imitation German Dyestuffs, being sold under the label of his company.

And a struggle it was, various kinds of opposite pull and intrigue, and opposition were doggedly laid in his path. Being able to read Chinese as well as speak it, Mr. H. overcame by being as persistent as his opponents and was able to move to the next "battle ground" satisfied that something had been accomplished.

Proclamations have been put up throughout the city forbidding the use of the firm's labels on imitation goods.

Each day the Government despatches to go out to the heads of County cities are printed in a Pamphlet form. The large proclamation for local use I have seen, also the booklet for the day in which the Government includes in the despatches the order to all County Magistrates to issue proclamations forbidding the sale of false dyes under true labels, and to instruct all Chambers of Commerce to enforce these proclamations.

Famine Relief Commission.

Our local delegate to the Annual meeting of the Famine Relief Commission held at Nanking says that the proposal to remove the head Office from Peiping to Nanking was not considered.

He tells of the great beauty of the herbarium decorations accomplished along the big new road-side at Nanking, even surpassing those seen in Japan.

Our new Civil Governor has taken over Office. Our Provincial Chairman General Liu Chi' is still here. Just as his farewell Banquet was concluding instructions arrived countermanding his transfer. He is away in the west and south west of the province inspecting. His once named successor General Shang Chen, denies having been appointed.

Missionaries and Ford Trucks.

Nine months ago your Correspondent, being at Kalgan, saw start off for Urumchi, the Capital of Sinkiang province, seven Missionaries belonging to the China Inland Mission. After well over a month, during which the two Ford Trucks behaved well, and with some miraculous intervention, they safely reached their destination. Many hundreds of miles of roads, no roads, rocks, and rivers, were involved.

It was therefore of special interest to read in the Press the interview with Capt. Polte speaking on behalf of himself and the others who piloted the three big Planes from Berlin to Shanghai in eleven days.

Obituary.

These planes picked up Mail at Urumchi. This mail brought the staggering news of the death of Dr. Fischbacher, one of the above seven, and the Rev. P. Madler. Mr. Madler had been a good many of his twenty-two years in China in that far off corner, he knew a number of languages met with there and was greatly esteemed. Though the Doctor had only been seven months there, he also had made a deep impression on the rulers and people. In token of this the Officials presented a burial ground. The Plane that turned back with an Official, finally came on to the coast, and the mail it brought was only four days old. A journey in the pre-plane days of two months.

IN FIVE DAYS

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

DERBY, W. AUSTRALIA, June 24.
THE Australian airman, Mr. C. T. P. Ulm, who accompanied Sir Charles Kingsford Smith in 1928 on his America-Australia flight, took off at 11.55 a.m. yesterday, in an attempt to fly to England in five or six days.

His first stop will probably be Singapore. The plane carries a crew of three. Mr. Ulm previously flew non-stop from Sydney to Derby in 21 hours.

Time's Gate-Crashers.

An American scientist estimates that the earth may be 2,000,000,000 years old. With all these years to choose from it seems a pity that war, debts, the Depression, the World Economic Conference, disarmament could not have contrived to spread themselves out just a little better.

Clock Like a Lion.

A mighty roar, uttered by a bronze lion twelve feet high, will announce to the inhabitants of Messina each day the hour of noon.

Simultaneously the animal will raise its head, open its mouth and wave its tail.

The lion forms part of a huge clock, claimed to be the largest in the world, in the Town Hall of Messina, which is to be inaugurated in August.

Vulgar Ostentation.

An English contemporary announces that the gold dug from the earth in 1932 was worth £100,000,000 at par, and that from this there could be constructed a solid staircase eight feet high and 16½ feet wide with a base measuring 12 feet from front to back. Builders of bungalows would, however, be well advised to avoid such vulgar ostentation, and to confine themselves to the older fashion of decorating their walls in £3 notes.

J. B. Hobbs.

At the age of 50 J. B. Hobbs is entitled to some respite from the rigours of the ordinary cricketer's programme of county matches, but if he delayed his appearance this season the occasion has been well worth the waiting for. His innings of 187, not out at the Oval was a splendid achievement for a man of his years, and the happiest indication that he still possesses perfect co-ordination of eye and wrist and foot. He followed this achievement with a double century that has brought him 192 hundreds in his brilliant career, and may yet put him beyond the reach of most competitors with the double hundred before he retires from the game.

The King's Cup.

This year's air race for the King's Cup will not take competitors over Lancashire and Yorkshire as on some former occasion. The race will take place on July 8, and it has been divided into four courses, longest of which will be 220 miles.

Local and General

One case of small-pox and two of meningitis were reported on Friday.

Quarantine restrictions imposed by the Government of Indo-China against arrivals from Hong Kong on account of small-pox have been removed.

No alteration in the design, format, or colour of the postage and revenue stamps of Great Britain is contemplated, an official of the General Post Office stated last month.

His Excellency the Governor of F.M.S., Sir Cecil Clementi, accompanied by Lady Clementi and the Misses Clementi, and attended by Mr. H. G. Beverley, aide-de-camp and Mr. R. J. Curtis, private secretary, left Singapore by the night mail on Friday, June 23, on a tour of the Malay States and Penang, returning to Singapore on the morning of Saturday, July 29.

In the Singapore Supreme Court on June 17, before Mr. Justice Mills, Mr. H. C. Willan, M.C.S., was admitted as an advocate and solicitor of the Supreme Court. Mr. J. H. Pedlow moved the petition. He said there was no objection from the Attorney-General. Dr. O. H. Withers Payne, who appeared on behalf of the Committee, made no objection and his lordship granted the application.

Very beautiful goods, needlework, toys and many other things, were offered for sale yesterday and Saturday, when the Rev. Mother Superior and sisters of the French Convent, Causeway Bay, held their annual sale of work. The event was well attended by members of the Catholic community, and brisk business was done at the stalls, practically all the goods offered being disposed of.

A German correspondent writes to correct an error concerning the description of Herr Loeb, who was recently placed under arrest, as "formerly German Reichs President." There have been in Germany only two Reichs Presidents, the late Herr Ebert and Field Marshal von Hindenburg. Herr Loeb was formerly President of the German Reichstag and is the leader of the German Social Democratic Party.

and Cranwell, in Lincolnshire, will be the farthest north. An innovation is that each of the four stages will start from and end at Hatfield Aerodrome, well out of London and just off the North Road.

There will be about forty machines taking part, and the new Morris aero-engine will be seen for the first time. Sir William Morris himself has nominated three of the entrants, but it is understood that the new power unit which his firm has evolved for light aircraft will not be generally available to owners of machines until later in the year. Lady Bailey and Mrs. A. S. Butler will be the only women pilots, but Mrs. Doris Sale and Viscountess Hardinge are among the owners who will be interested.

The Prince of Wales's pilot, Flight Lieutenant Fielden, is flying his own Comper machine, and Mr. W. L. Runciman will be the pilot of his own Puss Moth. Captain Broad and Captain Hope, both former winners of the cup, will be among the favourites. For the rest, the entrants are largely drawn from the growing body of owner-pilots.

Singapore Criticism of Imperial Airways.

Our Dutch friends, who so long maintained the service from Amsterdam to Batavia at an extraordinarily high degree of efficiency, cannot have overlooked the fact that when Imperial Airways does finally get a move on, direct competition is bound to develop. Indeed, far from having overlooked the fact, the Dutch have taken steps to meet such competition. They are going in for speedier machines. By October of next year they hope to reduce the journey time between Singapore and London to five days instead of eight or nine at present, with an ultimate aim of a three and a half day service.

Imperial Airways, meantime, are planning on the basis of ten or eleven days to Singapore, which is longer than the time taken at present by the Dutch line. It would appear, therefore, that Imperial Airways, having dallied in a most exasperating manner for more than two years, now proposes to take up the business of long distance air services at a stage which the rest of the world has already decided is out of date!

Mr. G. S. Rawlings, Singapore fourth magistrate, has been appointed British Resident in Labuan, and is being replaced on the Bench by Mr. L. R. F. Earl, formerly attached to the Colonial Secretary's Office, who assumed duties as acting fourth magistrate recently.

A receiving order was made against Purnan Chand, who carried on business as the "Excelsior" Restaurant, in Des Voeux Road Central, at the Bankruptcy Court on Saturday by the Chief Justice, Mr. J. R. Wood. Applicant was represented by Mr. H. J. Armstrong, of Messrs. Deacons, who stated that the sole assets consisted of furniture and effects. The Official Receiver, Mr. E. L. Aggas, said there was sufficient assets to justify the order being made.

A high official of the Chief Probate Registry at Somerset can tell some amusing stories of the queer characters who go there to read the wills of their ancestors. Recently, for instance, an elderly man appeared, who had made his will in 1904 and had forgotten the contents. He went to Somerset House in the hope of finding it filed away, and quite unaware that a will cannot be offered for probate until after the death of the testator. Undaunted when informed that he would never be able to read his own will, he insisted upon reading someone else's in order to have some return for the expenditure of his shilling.

The return to Singapore of Rev. Dr. Edwin Lee, Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the Malaya-Philippines area, after a prolonged visit to America, was the occasion of a largely attended reception accorded to him at Wesley Hall, on June 17, by members of congregations of the Methodist churches in Singapore and friends of the Bishop and Mrs. Lee. The hall was crowded and light refreshments were served. In the course of the evening the Rev. Abel Ekund briefly voiced the sentiments of the gathering and expressed the pleasure of all in welcoming Bishop and Mrs. Lee back after their arduous work in America on behalf of the needs of the mission field in the East, the full benefit of which could not easily be assessed for some time.

SUMMARY OF NEWS

General.

The Australian airman, Mr. C. T. P. Ulm, who accompanied Sir Charles Kingsford Smith in 1928 on his America-Australia flight, took off at 11.55 a.m. on Friday, in an attempt to fly to England in five or six days.

M. Litvinoff the Soviet Foreign Commissioner, has agreed to meet the British Foreign Minister, Sir John Simon, at the Foreign Office, on Monday.

The participation of two opponents of forced rubber restriction, Mr. D. Bolderhey and M. Van Leeuwen Boomkamp as members of the International Committee to inquire into the rubber restriction, created at Amsterdam, on June 21 at the meeting of the International Association of Rubber Growers and other Dutch East Indies cultivators, is regarded as a hopeful sign.

Far East.

The water is beginning to seep through Woking Lock, near Wokingham, despite feverish efforts people are making to prevent a break.

Local.

The concert given by the past and present pupils of the St. Stephen's College, on Saturday night, was a great success. The concert was in aid of a dispensary for Stanley Village.

A very successful open air concert was given on Saturday by the Kowloon Cricket Club. Everyone who attended hopes that the event will prove the first of a hot-weather series.

The results of Saturday's lawn bowls contained several surprises. In the first division Kowloon Bowling Green lost to Civil Service while Recreation lost to the Dockies. In the second division Civil Service lost to Recreation. All the losers were league leaders in their respective divisions.

Looking Back 75 Years

Audit of Colonial Accounts.

When public affairs are conducted, especially as regards money matters, with the secrecy which so conspicuously marks the policy of our Colonial Government, we for our part cannot refrain suspecting that such secrecy is assumed as a mask for equivocal expenditure. Thus, when we heard that the accounts for the three years last past were undergoing an audit, we for certain reasons concluded that they were the Colonial Accounts, and such unfortunately asserted them to be. We made use of the name of the gentleman whom we understood to be appointed the Auditor, which, there being not the slightest necessity for our doing, we partly deserve what we got, namely a public denial from that officer. It turned out that "Superintendency," not the Colonial accounts, were undergoing audit. We submit, under the circumstances, our shot was not very clumsily aimed, and hardly merited the reproach of "ignorance," which was attempted to be fastened upon us in the rejoinder we provided.

We have made a thousand and one charges against the Hong Kong Government. On the above occasion and on one other, we were betrayed into error, and were promptly brought to account. What have they said—what do they say to the remaining nine hundred and ninety-nine? The eager and anxious disavowal of the two errors established a tact acknowledgment that is inconvenient, perhaps impolitic to refute the rest.

The second circumstance under which our veracity has been impugned came from a source from which we little expected it, viz. The Friend of China. We stated that the Government Gazette Extraordinary had been kept back, to afford the Government printer the exclusive advantage of it, for his own newspaper. The Friend affirms this could not be, because Admiral Seymour's despatch as given in the said Gazette Extraordinary bore the same date as the Gazette itself, viz. 28th of January. We happen to know however that late that night delivery of the Gazette Extraordinary was refused, or in other words its issue was suppressed for selfish and sinister purpose until the day after the date of the paper. As the third circumstance emanates from the Register, it is for many reasons patent to the public beneath contempt.

We beg to repeat that Government Notification No. 13 is a determination of the Governor to levy a tax of 9 per cent. upon all property in this Colony liable to police assessment, but whether for police or other purposes is neither distinctly set forth nor most remotely hinted at. It must afford the Governor exquisite delight, to observe the Register taking up the cudgels for him on the estimates. We are far from having finished with them yet. It will be his turn ere long we opine, to ejaculate emphatically "Save me from such friends."

INDIA AND THE WORLD CONFERENCE

PREPARED TO JOIN IN REDUCING CUSTOMS
TARIFFSImportance Of Shaping Tariff Policy StressedBRITISH PREMIER CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS OF CONFERENCE

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 25. INDIA will be prepared to join in any declaration adopted by the Conference emphasising the desirability of reducing Customs tariffs, states a memorandum issued by the Indian Delegation to the World Economic Conference, for practical reasons of a financial kind the date and extent of reduction must be left to the decision of Governments concerned.

With reference to the future, the delegation would welcome a declaration from the Conference stressing the importance of shaping a tariff policy in such a way that protection would not be accorded to industries.

With reference to the exercise of powers to meet special emergencies by tariff enhancements, the delegation will be prepared to agree, when possible, to negotiation between countries concerned in the hope of devising means whereby the difficulties might be overcome without recourse to the tariff weapon.

LULL IN PROCEEDINGS

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, June 24. NO MEETINGS were held to-day of sub-committees of the World Conference, but the detailed examination of work before the delegates, which have been broadly surveyed during the past fortnight, will be continued on Monday.

During the lull in the proceedings several delegates including the French Finance Minister, Dr. Colijn, and Monsieur Bonnet, the French Finance Minister returned to their capitals yesterday, but will be back in London on Monday.

Dr. Benes is also spending the week end in Paris.

WHEAT NEGOTIATIONS REPORTED SUCCESSFUL

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, June 24. Negotiations which have been proceeding privately in London between great wheat producing countries are reported to be nearing a successful conclusion.

A substantial reduction in acreage under wheat amounting to 15 per cent., as proposed by America, is stated to have the approval of Canada and the Argentina. The Australian approval is confidently awaited.

The sub-committee of the World Conference which is considering the question of co-ordination, production and marketing will have before it on Monday a report of its drafting committee in which the broad principles to which any such agreements should conform are to be set out.

PRINCIPLES OF AGREEMENTS

These are as follows: commodity must be one of world importance in which there is such excess of production or stocks as to call for special concerted action. Agreement should be comprehensive as regards commodities to be regulated. It should be comprehensive as regards producers themselves. Where necessary, or desirable, for the success of the plan it should provide for co-operation of non-exporting countries whose production is considerable. It should be fair to both producers and consumers, designed to secure a price level without discriminating against any particular country and worked with willing co-operation of consuming interests in importing countries who are equally concerned with producers in the maintenance of regular supplies and fair and stable prices. It should be of adequate duration. Due regard should be had to the desirability of encouraging efficient production in each country.

SOVIET NOTE IGNORED

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BERLIN, June 25. The Foreign Office has bluntly rejected the Soviet Note protesting against Hugenberg's Memorandum to the World Economic Conference in regard to Germany's colonial aims on the ground that the memorandum contained nothing to justify such a protest.

SOVIET NOTE TO GERMANY

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 24. There was practically nothing doing at the World Economic Conference together, Mr. MacDonald continued, but he hoped that the Press would steadily resist that sort of influence. All who had experience in previous international conferences, knew they were slow working machines, and that the end of the second week was always the time when, perhaps, pessimism began to show itself, as language and other difficulties had, by that time, made themselves felt.

He had not, at this Conference, felt as depressed as he was on certain days when the Lausanne Conference was trembling in the balance. Next week would be one of co-ordination, and committees would acquire some of the business of work on which they were engaged. Those committees were now in full working order.

UNANIMITY NOT ESSENTIAL

LONDON, June 23. Sir Herbert Samuel, the Liberal Party Leader, speaking at Manchester, yesterday afternoon, referring to the progress at the World Economic Conference, said that with this Conference, unlike the Disarmament Conference, unanimity was not essential, though it was desirable.

If a group of countries agreed to lower the obstacles to their mutual trade, that would be an important step in the advance.

THE STABILISATION CRISISU.S. ALLEGED THREAT TO DISSOLVE CONFERENCE

LONDON, June 21. We publish from an American source, the Manila Bulletin, the following account of the earlier stages of last week's discussions on stabilisation at the Economic Conference.

Persistent pressure to dissolve the world economic conference until the dollar is stabilized with other leading currencies was exerted to-day by the European gold bloc, determined to end exchange fluctuations.

A resolution calling for adjustment pending an agreement was prepared by the French delegation, but Georges Bonnet, the French finance minister, failed to present it to the steering committee, as anticipated.

Instead the lobby campaign for a recess was intensified, as Washington turned thumbs down again on plans for immediate stabilisation.

Await Development.

Bonnet, appearing before the temporary monetary subcommittee, again demanded a currency agreement, but pledged France's full support toward the success of the conference.

No such agreement in the immediate future is foreseen by the United States, said word from Washington. The belief of the Roosevelt administration was expressed through the Treasury that the time has not arrived to consider such a move and that settlement of the question depends on developments.

Improvement of conditions in the United States is proceeding satisfactorily, it was said, and without stabilisation and by waiting until conditions are nearer normal the true worth of the dollar, pound sterling, franc and other currencies in terms of each other can be determined.

While the French position is that no real progress can be made on the projects for which the conference was summoned until stabilisation is achieved, Washington reiterated that the dollar should find its own level for the present.

In high French quarters it was said yesterday that the adjournment proposal would be brought before the steering committee to-day unless there were clear indications of an agreement.

U.S. SPECIFIC PROGRAMME

LONDON, June 21. Members of the American delegation announced to-day that they had a specific and immediate programme of economic action which would be presented at the proper moment. The American delegates met and discussed Senator Key Pittman's silver resolution which is winning some support before the monetary commission.

The delegates also discussed the wheat question and it is reported that the United States will propose to restrict its production regardless of the action taken by other wheat nations.

The French delegates officially denied reports that they proposed to quit the conference because the depreciation of the dollar made currency stabilisation impossible.

It is also reported that President Roosevelt's new instructions, which are being conveyed to the American delegation through Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state who is rushing to London from Washington.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 24. M. LITVINOFF the Soviet Foreign Commissioner, has agreed to meet the British Foreign Minister, Sir John Simon, at the Foreign Office, on Monday.

They will doubtless explore the strained Anglo-Soviet trade relations brought on by the imprisonment of the two British engineers of metropolitan Vickers, Messrs. W. Thornton and W. H. Macdonald.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

AMSTERDAM, June 24. THE participation of two opponents of forced rubber restriction, Mr. D. Bolderheij and M. Van Leeuwen Boomkamp as members of the International Committee to inquire into the rubber restriction, created here on June 21 at the meeting of the International Association of Rubber Growers and other Dutch East Indies cultivators, is regarded as a hopeful sign.

It is construed that they have at least modified their opposition and are willing to co-operate in the new scheme.

The other members of the Committee are M. Enthoven, who has always favoured restriction, and M. J. C. Kestelyn.

CUSTODY OF THE CHILDRENCHINESE GIRLS WHO PREFERRED THEIR ERRANT
MOTHER

Penang, June 14.—A heartrending scene was witnessed to-day in the Supreme Court when a father attempted to take away four Chinese girls who had been with their mother since birth.

The father, Liew Siew Cheong, a planter of Bukit Mertajam, applied to the Court for the custody of his children since his wife, Chin Thum Moey, had left him and was now staying with another man.

The mother did not resist the application, but asked that she be allowed to see her children twice a month.

His Lordship made an order for the father to have custody of the children, the mother to have access to them twice a month.

Outside the court the children created a scene, refusing to go with their father.

FENG'S LATEST
MOVEINTENDS TO CAPTURE
DOLONOR

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

PEIPING, June 24. IT appears there still remains considerable doubt as to Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang's real intentions. A delegate from General Sung Chieh Yuan returned here from a visit to the Christian General in Kalgan bearing a letter to General Sung in which Marshal Feng states that he would welcome the return of General Sung to Kalgan to resume the Chairmanship of Chahar, but regrets that he cannot abolish his title of Commander-in-Chief of the People's Anti-Japanese Allied Army and that he proposes to send forces shortly to effect the capture of Dolonor from the Manchukuo forces.

General Sung is at present in Peiping and there is no sign of his imminent departure for Kalgan. He is still conferring with Gen. Huang Fu and General Ho Ying Ching and it is unlikely that he will proceed to Kalgan until Marshal Feng abolishes his self-given title.

No Further Concessions.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, June 24. IN an interview with press representatives, Mr. Sun Fo to-day said that the Government would not be willing to make further concessions to General Feng Yu Hsiang unless he agreed to leave Kalgan, as his presence there rendered General Sung Chieh Yuan's return to Chahar impossible. Mr. Sun Fo alleged that General Yu Hsiang's recent activities were definitely connected with the South-Western leaders, who he said are anxious to establish an independent Government at Canton.

The Government, Mr. Sun said, has not yet received any report from General Huang Shao Hsiung, who is still in Hongkong as Nanking's special envoy to explain to the South-West leaders the North China truce.

In regard to the question of the Manchukuo irregulars in the Luan-tung (East Luan) region, Mr. Sun declared that their activities were instigated by the Japanese, who are attempting to establish another puppet Government inside the Great Wall. He added that the Government had given the Peiping Military Council full powers to handle the situation.

V.C.'S DETOUR TO TAX DEMAND

WILL DECLINE PENSION.

A well-known V.C. who recently received notification of an assessment of £2 for income-tax on his V.C. grant, has, it is understood, replied to the inspector of taxes as follows:—

"If you insist on payment I must give you notice that I decline the pension altogether. This will help to balance the Budget." The V.C. annuity, although it may be increased by increments up to £50 a year where the holder is unable to obtain a livelihood, is in most cases £10, and there are V.C. heroes who have to return a proportion up to one-quarter of the sum they receive from the State.

MODERN ROMANCE

PROPOSAL DURING PLANE FLIGHT.

New York.—A proposal in an aeroplane led to the surprise marriage of two well-known New York society figures, one of them a nephew of Viscountess Astor. The bridegroom is Mr. Reginald Langhorne Brooks, whose mother Mrs. Reginald Brooks was formerly Miss Phyllis Langhorne, of Virginia, a sister of Lady Astor.

Mr. Brooks is a prominent amateur aviator, and so is his bride, Miss Alice Rhonie. She is the daughter of the late Mr. Arthur Holzheimer, of New York, and was formerly married to Mr. Richard Bemberger, a well-known broker. After her divorce, three years ago, she adopted her second Christian name of Rhonie as her surname.

She said that the marriage was as sudden to herself as to the rest of New York society. "We fixed it up when flying back from the country club in the afternoon," she said, "and we stopped at the municipal building to be married when we arrived in New York."

HEIR PRESUMPTIVE
TO SPANISH THRONEEX-KING'S THIRD SON NAMED

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

PARIS, June 24. IT IS OFFICIALLY stated that Don Juan, third son of ex-King Alfonso of Spain, has been named the heir presumptive to the Spanish throne. Don Juan, who is a midshipman in the British Navy, has two elder brothers, Don Alfonso, ex-Prince of Asturias, and Don Jaime, both of whom have renounced the title. The marriage of Don Alfonso, eldest son of ex-King Alfonso of Spain, and a Cuban girl, Senorita de San Pedro, took place last week. Ex-King Alfonso refused permission for the marriage on the grounds that the bride is a commoner, also on account of his son's ill-health.

PRINCE OF ASTURIAS WEDS CUBAN GIRLMONARCHISTS SEND REGRETS

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, June 21. In a brief civil ceremony, the Spanish Prince of Asturias, eldest son of former King Alfonso, and Srta. Edelmira San Pedro, daughter of a wealthy Cuban merchant, were married here to-day.

Neither Alfonso nor former Queen Victoria was present and the shadow of the family's disapproval dimmed the brilliance of the event. Fearing Alfonso's disapproval, many outstanding Spanish monarchists sent their regrets. The former queen sent word, however, her heart was with the couple.

At the wedding were Swiss guards, who had been stationed at the prince's hotel since the receipt of anonymous warnings, one saying "the prince faces great danger." The general understanding in advance was that the prince signed a formal renunciation of claims to the Spanish throne upon his determination to marry, his bride being a commoner.

Prince Tells Father of Plans.

LAUSANNE, June 20. The Prince of Asturias, son of former King Alfonso of Spain, informed his father to-day that he will be wed to-morrow. He conveyed the best wishes of his fiancée, Edelmira San Pedro, daughter of a Cuban merchant. Asturias is renouncing his prerogatives as heir to the Spanish throne to wed the commoner.

Prince Threatened, Well Guarded.

LONDON, June 20. The Exchange Telegraph's Lausanne correspondent reported to-day that Swiss authorities were guarding the Prince of Asturias, who is scheduled to wed a Cuban girl to-morrow, because of the receipt of threatening and insulting letters.

Ex-Infante Juan.

MADRID, June 20. The ex-Infante Don Juan of Bourbon and Battenberg, now a midshipman in the British Navy, to-day celebrated his 30th birthday. It is said that he is now the "heir apparent" to the Spanish throne.

The fifth child (third son) of ex-King Alfonso XIII., and Queen Victoria Eugenia was born in the summer palace at San Idelfonso de la Granja on June 20, 1913. Don Juan is one of the most popular of the royal children, and many monarchists who blame Alfonso XIII. for the loss of the throne, hope that it will be regained through Juan.

Juan was given an excellent education, and kept out of the public eye as much as possible until he entered the Spanish Navy Academy in August 1, 1930. The Academy is located at San Fernando.

M. V. ARAMIS
STRIKES A ROCKVESSEL IN NO DANGER OF SINKING

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, June 24. ASSISTANCE has reached the Messageries Maritimes liner, m.v. Aramis, which struck a submerged rock on Thursday night during a dense fog, when 210 miles from Shanghai.

Most of the passengers have been transferred to tenders which left Shanghai immediately on receipt of news of the mishap.

It is uncertain whether the Messageries Maritimes motorship Aramis is actually off the rocks which she struck two nights ago. The Shanghai tug Sampson yesterday supplied the disabled liner with two pumps, while the tender Alexandra left at 8 o'clock this morning with about 100 passengers for Shanghai.

The French cruiser Primoguet and the ship Algot left Shanghai yesterday to assist the Aramis. It was earlier reported that the Aramis No. 4 hold was badly holed, but that the vessel was in no danger of sinking. The mishap occurred in a deep fog approximately five miles north of Steep Island.

INDIA AIR ROUTE

EXTENSION TO CALCUTTA
ON JULY 1

The India air mail, which leaves London on July 1, will end its journey at Calcutta and not at Karachi as at present. After that Imperial Airways liners will ply weekly between London and Calcutta. This is the first stage in the extension of the service towards Australia. On October 1 there will be a further extension to Rangoon, and it is expected that the Christmas mail will be carried through to Singapore to open the final link for which Great Britain is responsible in the Australia service.

The sections east of Karachi will be operated by big monoplanes of the Albatross type, which are expected to cruise at nearly 130 miles an hour. The extension to Calcutta will add only one day to the existing schedule for the journey to Karachi. Liners arriving at Karachi in the early afternoon will go straight on to Jodhpur for the night and will complete their flight to Calcutta the following day. In the reverse direction they will leave Calcutta every Tuesday and the mails will arrive in London on the following Monday.

The new air liners are now being flown to India in readiness for the extension. Major H. G. Brackley, superintendent of Imperial Airways, left Croydon in the Albatross on Monday and reached Rome the same night. He left yesterday for Brindisi, Athens, and Cairo, and he proposes to take the big aeroplane over the whole of the route to Australia in order to survey it and report on the conditions of landing grounds and service arrangements.

The extension due on July 1 will add 1,500 miles to the routes of Imperial Airways and will bring Calcutta within seven days of London.—The Times.

From there he went to The British Naval Academy at Dartmouth, was promoted to midshipman and assigned to duty in India, where he was this past winter visited by his father. On June 23 the ex-Infante Beatriz celebrates her 24th birthday, and on June 23 the ex-Infante Jaime will complete 25 years.

SWIMMING GALA AT THE "Y."

Successful Fete Staged by H.K.I.S.A.

CHINESE WIN MAJORITY OF RACES

While it was not from a competitive sense an exhibition of high merit, the swimming gala arranged on Saturday night by the Hong Kong International Amateur Swimming Association on Saturday at the Kowloon Y.M.C.A. was one of the most successful social functions of its kind that has been seen in Hong Kong for a long time.

The men's races were keenly fought out, and the competitors were wildly cheered by their respective supporters all the way. In the men's 100 yards breast strokes, Kwok Chun Hang of the South China A.A. swam exceptionally well to lower the Colony's record by 3 seconds.

The ladies events proved to be the most attractive part of the night's programmes and in Miss Yeung Sau King, the Chinese have a swimmer who is in a class by herself. It would be interesting to see how she would fare in the open Harbour Swim—Seventh or eighth, as a rough estimate!

In the opening event Shek Kam Pui set a new bath record of 63-1/5 for the 100 yards beating Tsang Ho Fook and H. Lange. Miss Yeung Sau King had little difficulty in winning the ladies 50 yards free style from Mrs. A. C. Schreuder while in the third race Kwok Chun Hang won handsomely in the 100 yards breast strokes.

The open diving event saw some excellent exhibitions, and the judges had a hard task making the award. Mak Wai Wing secured the highest points, Morrison the Y.M.C.A. representative had hard luck in that he spoiled one of his efforts.

In the team races the South China Combination led from start to finish though at one stage the "Y" got within a matter of inches of their fourth man.

Leung Shiu Man had the race of his life in the 50 yards sprint, being pressed by Donn all the way. The Chinese started slightly better than Donn did, and the advantage made all the difference.

Mrs. Schreuder won the ladies 100 yards breast stroke from Miss Yau Sau King amidst tremendous excitement, when the supporters of the different camps shouted themselves hoarse during the race. She won by the barest touch from the Chinese swimmer.

Shek Kam Pui followed up his victory in the 100 yards by winning the 50 yards back strokes comfortably. He gave a very pretty exhibition.

The Ladies' team race drew only two teams and although the "Y" put up a good race against South China, Miss Doris Hunt lost a good deal of ground and there was no doubt as to the ultimate result when Miss Yeung Sau King took the water a little ahead of Mrs. Schreuder.

The water polo match that wound up the evening's programme was a disappointing affair, the players (Continued on next Column)

YESTERDAY'S BASEBALL

AMERICANS BEATEN BY SOUTH CHINA

Thrills galore featured the baseball game between Hong Kong Baseball Club and South China Athletic Association which was played on the Caroline Hill diamond yesterday, and those who went down to get some excitement were by no means disappointed.

In the absence of Al Huebner, Joe Bowen pitched for the Club and for the first four innings it looked as if he would win the game as he only allowed one of the Chinese players to cross the plate. The score then was 2-1, in favour of the Hong Kong team, but in the sixth innings they were all up in the air and allowed the Chinese to score five. The latter chalked another five in the seventh to win the game by 11 runs to 2.

South China v. U.S.S. Isabel.

On Saturday in a practice game South China fielded a team which won by 16-6 over the U.S.S. Isabel. The game was characterised by bad fielding and the sailors were far from being a team, though at times they displayed good individual work.

Pau Ka Ping hit a home run during the game. The sailors started promisingly but when the Chinese scored six runs in the second inning, they seemed to lose interest in the game, which gradually developed into a one-sided affair.

SANTO TOMAS BEAT U.S. MARINES

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY)

SHANGHAI, June 24.

The Santo Tomas University of Manila Overwhelmed the U.S. Marines by 17 runs to 5 in the big baseball game yesterday.

The Marines led until the fifth innings when the visitors staged a rally to score fifteen times in the remaining innings.

QUEEN'S CLUB CHAMPIONSHIPS ABANDONED

(2, JOUGH REUTER'S AGENCY)

LONDON, June 24. The Queen's Club London Championships were abandoned owing to rain. The following finalists divided the titles.

Singles.

Vines and Stoeffen, both Americans.

Doubles.

Vines and Gledhill, America and Kirby and Farquharson, South Africa.

Women's Singles.

Mrs. Wills-Moody and Mrs. Pittman, Great Britain.

Women's Doubles.

Mdm. Mathieu and Miss Ryan, Mrs. Holcroft Watson and Miss Harvey, Great Britain.

Mixed Doubles.

Mr. Maier and Miss Ryan and Nuno and Miss Noel.

A Hard Tussle.

EARLIER. The flip of a coin eliminated Clifford Sutter from the Final Round of the London Championships at Queen's Club yesterday.

Playing against Stoeffen, one of the most promising American players, the New Orleans ace dropped the first set at 12-10. The second set went to 12-10 before the players decided to spin a coin to decide the winner. Stoeffen won.

Ellsworth Vines, favoured to win the Wimbledon crown for the second year in succession, beat Keith Gledhill, his doubles partner, in the other semi-final.

The scores were 6-8, 7-5, 6-3. Mrs. Wills-Moody, who is to make an attempt on her sixth Wimbledon title, defeated Virginia Rice, with whom she crossed the Atlantic, by 6-2, 6-1 to enter the Women's Final.

Unlike the men's event, however, the women's final will be an Anglo-American one. Mrs. Pittman, who displayed surprising form during the tournament, beat Mrs. Andrus Burks, another American entrant, by 6-2, 6-4.

BRITISH AMATEUR GOLF TITLE

WON BY VETERAN PLAYER

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY)

LONDON, June 24.

THE Hon. Michael Scott won the British Amateur Golf Championship at Hoylake to-day when he beat T. A. Bourn, the British Walker Cup player, in the Final Round, 4 and 3.

Scott was 2 up at the ninth as the result of especially good putting. At the end of the morning round Scott was 5 up.

The scores were: Scott 76 Bourn 59

HOYLAK, June 24.

The Honourable Michael Scott, son of Lord Eldon, won the Amateur Golf Championship beating in the final the ex-Cambridge Blue and former English champion, T. A. Bourn by 4 and 3.

Scott is fifty-five years of age against Bourn's thirty. He won the Open Championship of Australia in 1904 and 1907 and was many times winner of the Australian Amateur Championship. He won the French Amateur Championship in 1913, was a British internationalist in 1934.

His sister won the British Ladies' title for the first three years after it was instituted. His brother, Osmond, was amateur finalist in 1905.

To-day his excellent putting gave the veteran the title. He was five up at the turn and four up at the twenty-seventh.

ROSS BEATS CANZONERI

FOR WORLD LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE

TITLE

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY)

Chicago, June 24.

TONY Canzoneri, the world's lightweight boxing champion, lost his title on a points decision to-night when pitted against Barney Ross.

Over 50,000 thronged the Stadium and booed the decision. Quite 15,000 were countless owing to the sultry weather.

Canzoneri was responsible for the curbing of Kid Berg's world championship aspirations. He beat Berg after a palpable foul in their first battle, and won quite easily in the return bout.

COMPTON BEATS SARAZEN

WINS FIRST OF FIVE CHALLENGE GAMES

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY)

LONDON, June 24.

ARCHIE COMPTON, former British Ryder Cup player, has won the first of a series of five matches in a challenge match against Gene Sarazen, the American successor to Bobby Jones.

At Exeter yesterday Compton beat Sarazen by 5 and 4 over 36 holes after the American player had been 2 up at the end of the first 18 holes.

The first-round cards were: Sarazen 68, Compton 71.

Sarazen completed the professionals' "double" last year when he won the British and American Open Championships. He also won the U.S. Professionals' title.

GOLF VETERAN ROUTS YOUNG SCHOOL

Abe Mitchell the Hero of Leeds

RYDER CUP CAPTAIN BEATEN

(Special Air-Mail Service)

LONDON, June 6.

THE 46-year-old Abe Mitchell was the outstanding personality in the first and second rounds of the 2750 golf tournament at Leeds yesterday, and he beat Henry Cotton, the best of the young school, and C. H. Ward to reach the last eight.

Mitchell had to go to the nineteenth to beat Ward, a tribute to the stamina of a man who has not been too well recently and who had a most testing game in the first round.

Mitchell's victory over Cotton was the reward of courage and accuracy. He was two down at the turn to an opponent almost half his age, having gone out in 36 to 34. He fought back and won a thrilling game, to the delight of the 1000 spectators.

Splendid Recovery.

It was an unusual experience for Mitchell to be outdriven, but Cotton frequently outdistanced him. After the third hole had been halved Cotton won the fourth, Mitchell there being bunkered.

A "birdie" 3 at the fifth gave Cotton a lead of two, which he retained with halves at the sixth and seventh. Mitchell played a magnificent shot at the eighth, after a cut drive he took a mashie and steered his ball beautifully between two huge trees, dislodging twigs.

He got a half there, and with the next divided Cotton turned two up. Mitchell now began to get real punch into his shots. He just missed winning the tenth and eleventh holes, and he delivered a smashing blow at the thirteenth, where he holed a six-yarder for a 2, and a 4 at the fourteenth enabled him to draw level.

Mitchell played a recovery shot from the wood at the fifteenth to within six inches of the pin for a half, the issue taking a definite turn.

Cotton Blunders.

He led for the first time at the next hole, where Cotton played a weak second and was short with a five-yard putt. Cotton could not recover from that telling blow. He made a sad mess of the seventeenth, where he took three putts from the edge of the green and the match was over.

Another surprise came in the defeat of Charles Whitcombe, the captain in the last Ryder Cup team. He lost to J. H. Bueson, a 22-year-old Leicester man, who has been only three months professional at the Pannal Club, Harrogate.

Deadly Putting.

The match seemed as good as over when Whitcombe was one up with five to play, but Bueson took the next two holes to be "dormie" one, and at the last, Whitcombe gave up the hole and the match.

Percy Alliss was beaten by William Large by one hole. Large played in amazing fashion. On each of seven greens he was down with his first putt, and among his strokes were an eight-yard putt at the third, a ten-yarder at the fourth, and a seven-yarder at the tenth.

His best effort, however, was a 16-yards putt at the sixteenth, which made him all square. After winning the seventeenth Large recovered from a bunker at the last hole and holed a two-yarder putt for the match.

WALTER NEUSEL DISQUALIFIED

Low Blow in Eighth Round

It was a pity that Walter Neusel, the German, should have been disqualified in the eighth round of his heavy-weight bout with Don McCorkindale, of South Africa, at the Albert Hall last night, for the fight, after a doubtful start, had just begun to warm up, writes the London Daily Telegraph Boxing Correspondent.

The men were exchanging short blows fiercely when suddenly Neusel sent in a right swing which caused McCorkindale to double up in pain and stagger helplessly to the ropes and thence to the boards.

The referee ordered Neusel to his corner, while the South African was carried to his.

Few could have had any doubt as to the justice of the referee's decision. I had formed the opinion that Neusel had hit too twice previously, and the referee confirmed my view after the fight.

Thus ended the hopes of most of us that the fight would develop into a memorable one. Up to the sixth round there had been little but infighting, at which McCorkindale was a master.

Neusel Fuzzier.

The South African appeared to be able to hit his man where and how he pleased—not many of them punishing blows, but enough, nevertheless, to store up points in his favour. Neusel was obviously puzzled, and he made the fatal mistake of trying to smother McCorkindale's close work by holding.

For three rounds the young German's seconds called to him in vain to stand away and box. In the fourth a find right by McCorkindale opened a cut beneath his opponent's eye, and the South African played upon the wound in the next.

In the seventh round Neusel went to work as if he realised that only a super-effort could save him from defeat.

For the first time real blows were exchanged, and it seemed possible that if Neusel could keep up the pace he would at least press McCorkindale closely.

The eight round opened on the same note. Neusel seemed to be (Continued on next Column).

HOME CRICKET

CAMBRIDGE BLUE'S GOOD ALL-ROUND FROM

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY)

LONDON, June 23.

ALTHOUGH five batsmen made centuries during the mid-week cricket matches, pride of place went to J. H. Human, Cambridge "Blue" who not only got into three figures against Surrey in both innings but also took 5 wickets for 73 runs in the county's initial knock.

Jack Hobbs again displayed fine batting form, scoring 118 before being beaten. He now has 193 centuries to his credit in first class cricket.

County Championship.

Worcester (399 and 122) beat Middlesex (294) on first innings.

Somerset (190 and 372) beat Hampshire (93 and 193) by 107 runs.

Derbyshire (360 and 123) beat Gloucester (200 and 112) by 71 runs.

Glamorgan (389) beat Lancashire (104 and 389-3) on first innings.

Surrey (291 and 294-4) beat Cambridge (273 and 240) by six wickets.

The Test Match.

Rain interfered with the Test match between England and the West Indies to such an extent that no further play was possible after England had scored 41 for no wickets.

K.C.C. GALA NIGHT
An Excellent Open Air Concert

A GROUP OF CLEVER ENTERTAINERS

Kowloon Cricket Club concerts have always been popular, and well attended, not only by mainland residents, but quite a number of "Islanders," who faithfully make the journey. The fact is that in hot weather the outdoor show is the thing. K.C.C. concerts, and Volunteer Headquarters concerts used to rival each other a few years ago during the hot weather. K.C.C. has always been a hospitable place, and hospitality has expanded proportionately with the opening of the spacious pavilion.

On Saturday the building was ablaze with light, and festoons of coloured lamps, red and mauve, decorated the facade and lit up the stage in front of the steps. A very pretty stage it was of green trellis-work, swathed in creeper and decorated with flowers, reminiscent of the summer bower of an old inn garden at Home. Chairs and benches were ranged in big semi-circle, only just big enough to take the big audience. Away to the East of the ground a temporary bar had been arranged, where, during the interval refreshments could be obtained. The interval is, of course, and big feature of the concert, like the intervals during a county cricket match at Home.

The K.C.C. were also lucky as to weather for Saturday's revival. It was warm, but not over-hot for the time of year. Most of the time there was a starry sky overhead, but just after 11 p.m. there was a shower. It was only a few minutes duration, but sufficiently heavy to send everyone scampering "in doors." The unfortunate thing was that the rain just interrupted one of the best items of the programme, the delightful Spanish Burlesque by J. J. Fergusson and J. O. M. Grenham. The performers were braver than the audience, but the little incident—all part of a Hong Kong summer night—was soon over, and the crowded benches soon roaring with laughter at the apt witticisms of the Rev. J. N. Bryan Lewis.

The Concert.

The programme showed what a wealth and variety there is of really good humorous talent in the Colony—and we can think of one very clever comedian, whom the K.C.C. was keeping in reserve for the next.

Dick Barty, we all know; his songs and his stories were extremely good and the topical song about the crowds at the Fair, was apt, witty and at the same time extremely good-natured. That is the secret of the good topical song. Whatever people may say, a hint of malice always spoils it.

The Spanish burlesque by Messrs. Fergusson and Grenham we have already alluded to. It was delightfully ridiculous, rather in George Rolings manner, without the over-clowning that often mars many humourists' professional and amateur—their dancing for example, was really good dancing. The Rev. J. N. Bryan Lewis, is another very clever humourist and both his pitter and his songs went down well. Madame and Monsieur de Tour also gave two excellent numbers and proved themselves a real asset to the party.

Singing in the open air, especially of non-humorous songs is never very easy, until one has got quite used to it. Mrs. Sharpham, was encouraged both times, her voice carrying well, and in full control of the not very easy music. Mr. Gus

NIGHT LIFE IN KOWLOON

SOME UNDESIRABLE ASPECTS

BY OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

"What is night life in Kowloon like?" was the teaser with which I was confronted the other day, and not knowing very much about it, I countered it with, "Is there any?" and strange to say these two simple questions started a company of about five or six people on what turned out to be a lengthy debate.

One party held that there was no night life at all in Kowloon (or even Hong Kong for that matter) while the other opinion was that "there was too much of it." I am not going to say anything one way or the other as to whether is such a thing or not but am merely going to make just a few observations, and if what I am going to deal with really constitutes "night life," then the sooner it is done away with the better it would be for the community in general.

Those Cabarets.

Up to a few years ago—to be precise, about two years ago—there was nothing else for one to do after dinner than a visit to one of the many cinemas, a drive around the "New Territories," moonlight bathing in the summer months and perhaps a dinner dance in the Peninsula Hotel when it is not too hot to indulge in that form of pastime.

The people who were content with a quiet life were more than satisfied with this mode of living, and whenever a touring company visited one of the many theatres in the mainland—principally the Star Theatre—these same quiet people thought the occasion was quite a grand affair and they made the most of it.

The misguided youth, however, thought we were lagging behind times and some of the more modern ones—or at least those who thought they were really modern—clamoured for something more exciting and when no notice was taken, they took it upon themselves to "start something," and that "something" took the form of what were called private dancing clubs with instructions, or dance partners.

The idea caught on and these clubs sprang up one after another with such rapidity until at last some of the more business like members thought they could be converted into really "money-making" institutions and the result is that we now have the many different dancing academies.

And this brings out the old, old question, raised so many times, by so many different people. "Are these academies injurious to the community?" The answer to this question—or at least my answer to it—is in the affirmative.

The merits and demerits of these places have been exhaustively dealt with so I am not going to touch upon them. Suffice to say, they are not what may be called the "night life"—they are merely an excuse for staying out late and for more than one supporter, they have turned out to be what may be termed a fool's paradise. An occasional visit to them may be quite harmless but as they are apt to "grow on" many people, the best plan is to fight shy of them!

A Bigger Curse.

There is even a worse though indirect aspect of this night-life business, but thanks to the good work—put in by the Police, this appears to be on the wane. I refer to the street soliciting that used to be prevalent along Nathan Road and other places. Not so long ago, one could hardly walk along Nathan Road after 8 p.m. without being accosted. This kind of thing is easier to drive underground than to eradicate. The authorities have, in fact, no easy task in shaping a policy that avoids making things worse by undue suppression, and allowing, on the other hand too much latitude.

So far as the Chinese are concerned, there is some night life in the Yumati district where the big restaurants are situated. This is to Kowloon what West Point is to Hong Kong, and it is to these restaurants and their attendant sing-song girls that the Chinese man goes for "important business dinners" when an evening away from the family hearth seems desirable!

COMPULSORY LABOUR PLANS ARE FORMED

GERMANY SEES VITAL FORCE IN NEW TYPE OF CONSCRIPTION

Berlin.—"Germany needs the compulsory labour service not alone to get the young unemployed off the streets, and not alone to give work to the unemployed, but more than anything else, to gain for the nation's life things which it directly needs." This, in brief, is the opinion leaders and advocates of the German labour service-to-be expressed when asked as to the importance and scope of this scheme which, it is now announced, will start functioning at the beginning of the coming year.

They explain that the fact that every young German at a certain age will have to do manual labor—regardless of what his education or training has been—therefore will create national unity. "Compulsory labour service will teach the young people comradeship, self-discipline and subordination of the interests of the individual for the sake of the well-being of the nation."

Staff Appointed.

The technical preparations for the introduction of the compulsory labour scheme are conducted by special commissioners and sub-commissioners. Head of the organization committee is ex-colonel Konstantin Hierl, a close confidant of Chancellor Hitler. Hierl is working together with a staff of experts, most of whom have been active in the voluntary labour service which is to form the nucleus of its compulsory counterpart.

Commissioner Hierl has appointed 14 district sub-commissioners who are reorganizing the existing voluntary labour camps in their realm. Their main task at present is to train sufficient subaltern leaders, non-commissioned officers as it were, for the coming labour army. At present there are approximately 100,000 young men in voluntary labour camps. Half of this number is in camps supervised by the National Socialist party, and the other half in camps supervised by the Steelhelmet organization. All other camps which were under the supervision of other organizations—formerly also the Reichsbanner, the Catholic Trade Union, and several charitable organizations—were superintending voluntary labour camps—have been disbanded and closed in the meantime. Also all so-called "open" camps have been closed, or have been converted into "closed" camps, that is, camps where volunteers not only work but also are housed.

To Choose Work.

Aside from training subalterns for the labour army-to-be the district sub-commissioners must investigate what kind of work is available for their district. They cannot complain of having to go idle. Every day petitions are sent them to investigate some or other proposition, and the commissioners must turn down a great number of these propositions for not coming under the scope of the compulsory labour service.

For their guidance a number of strict rules has been prepared. According to these rules they must ascertain:

- (1) Whether the proposed work can be done by private enterprise with available ordinary labour power, for if this be the case, the work does not come under the scope of the compulsory labour service.
- (2) Whether and in what form the work would be in the interest and for the benefit of the nation, for this is the pre-supposition for the employment of the 'Compulsory labour army.'
- (3) Whether the work can be accomplished without specially trained expert labourers or artisans.
- (4) What machinery implements and accessories are necessary if compulsory labour units are to carry out the work. How many men are necessary and how long it will take them to finish the job.

Jobs Picked.

The district sub-commissioners have already examined and approved of a great number of propositions. According to expert estimates the jobs approved of as coming under the scope of the compulsory labour scheme are claimed to be sufficient for the employment of approximately 350,000 labourers for 12 months.

All the leaders and advocates of the compulsory labour service emphasize that it has nothing to do with military training. They claim that such training will be left, and will have to be left, to other organizations, such as the army or a militia.

JUMP ON CAR AT 60 M.P.H.

POLICE PRAISED FOR BRAVERY

A constable's jump from a police patrol car on to the running-board of a stolen car while both vehicles were travelling at nearly 60 miles an hour was described at London Sessions yesterday.

Edward Mansell, aged 27, Edward Herbert, aged 23, and Walter Patrick Cleary, aged 22, were sentenced to 15 months' hard labour for stealing a car and being in possession of housebreaking implements by night.

Police Constable A. Miller said that, with Police Constable W. Wilkins driving, he pursued the three men in the stolen car, which was being driven at between 55 and 60 miles an hour along Wandsworth road towards Vauxhall. When the police car drew level, Mansell, the driver, refused to stop.

"I got on to the running-board of the police car," he said, "mounted the running-board of the stolen car, and broke the rear off-side window with my truncheon."

"That checked the speed of the car," he added, "and the driver swerved towards the police car. I fell between the two vehicles, but hung on to the door of the police car and was injured on the right side."

Reply to Herbert, Miller said it was easy to mount a car going at 60 miles an hour from another car.

Sir Percival Clarke (the Chairman) said: "The conduct of the constables shows to what an extent we can rely on the courage of our police."

WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

ton, may embody an early de facto stabilization of the dollar at 4.40 or 4.50, which is higher than the British hitherto have been willing to consider.

This new plan would allow the United States to achieve reflation or allow President Roosevelt to devalue the dollar 10 per cent. This step may be necessary to restore the nation to the 1925 price levels.

GROUP CHARTS FUTURE POLICY

LONDON, June 20.

American delegation at the world economic conference, after several about-faces, in the last four days which brought considerable criticism from the British press, has decided to pursue a uniform and consistent programme hereafter.

The delegation assembled to-day to chart future policy, and decided that a united front was necessary.

Senator James Couzens of Michigan, one of the delegates, called attention to the criticism in the London press and the necessity of avoiding any future splitting up.

He said the delegation must decide whether to pursue a nationalist or an internationalist economic policy.

It was understood the delegation agreed there was little hope for a de facto stabilization of currencies, and therefore agreed to work for permanent stabilization.

James Warburg, American expert assigned to the monetary commission, said the United States was not willing to return to a gold standard until certain it would work.

The American delegation first appeared to have reversed itself when James M. Cox, delegate named as chairman of the stabilization group, hinted that a de facto stabilization of the pound, dollar and franc was about to be achieved.

Exchanges Respond.

This information was promptly registered in foreign exchange trading and the markets in the United States, and then the treasury department at Washington made it known that it was impossible for the various nations to find an acceptable formula for temporary stabilization.

Next came the move when Secretary of State Cordell Hull wrote a letter to the tariff group, suggesting that a general 10 per cent. tariff slash be included in the agenda.

The commission announced the United States had made such a proposal. Later Senator Key Pittman denied that such a proposal had been made. The quandary was explained when it was revealed that Hull, in making the suggestion, did not consider it a formal proposal.

These things developed after inspired stories from Washington, from the American delegation, which en route to Europe, and in London, all indicated the American was interested primarily in a prompt stabilization of currencies and tariff reduction.

It was generally understood that this was the essence of the understanding between President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald after their Washington conversations.

The various false moves of the American delegation, after the United States was most active in arranging the conference, which resulted in foreign countries looking to America for leadership, has cast growing doubts in conference circles in London.

ROOSEVELT GIVES LAST INSTRUCTIONS

Off Cape Cod, Mass.

In a dramatic meeting at sea to-day, President Roosevelt gave instructions to his special envoy to the world economic conference at London, Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state.

Moley sped to the presidential schooner by seaplane and a naval destroyer to get the last word of Roosevelt for the London conference, to which he goes to-morrow.

While steering his 45-foot schooner around Cape Cod, the President listened to Moley's recital of developments at the London conference, and gave the assistant secretary his instructions.

It was announced later that Moley will give the American delegation information on the United States' view on these developments. Moley will remain at London just a week and then return to give the President information on conference developments.

With his two sons, James and Franklin D. Roosevelt, is sailing up the New England coast to his summer home at Compobello, Maine, enjoying the first vacation of three history-cramped months in office.

DR. BARNES'S VIEWS ON POPULATION

BISHOP AND SLUM PROBLEM

LONDON, June 2.

When the Upper House of Convocation of Canterbury resumed yesterday, the Bishop of Winchester (Dr. Garbett) moved a resolution asking for support for a campaign for the abolition of the slums.

"The national conscience," he said, "seems to have been aroused by this problem. The national building of two million houses has only touched the fringe of the problem. Twenty-five per cent. of the population of London live two or more in a room."

It was impossible, he added, to build houses at an economic rent to the average wage earner in London or the larger towns, because the rates were too high or the site value was sometimes excessive. That was where private enterprise would break down without a subsidy.

The Bishop of Birmingham (Dr. Barnes) said that it was true that local and national indebtedness had assumed dangerous proportions, but the importance of the slum problem was so great that even if indebtedness had to be increased they must deal with the problem.

Sterilisation.

"It would be in the highest degree advantageous to the community," he continued, "if we could eliminate those who are mental defects, the social problem class, the lowest 10 per cent. of the population among whom mental defects are so great. There must be something analogous to sterilisation."

"We are getting a differential birth rate, and we desire the better stock of the community to increase, whereas in fact the class that has been described as 'feeble and reckless' is increasing."

"It would be to the general benefit if knowledge of birth control could be extended to women of the unskilled labourer class, among whom it does not exist at the present time."

The Bishop of London (interrupting)—Are we not rather off the subject? The ethics of birth control are rather off the mark.

The Archbishop of Canterbury said that he hoped the subjects mentioned by Dr. Barnes were not to be generally discussed, or "we shall be here for a very long time."

Continuing Dr. Barnes said: "I think the time will come when it will be necessary for us to consider these social conditions, and to say that the unrestricted immigration which at present comes over from over-fertile countries like Southern Ireland should be brought to end. (Hear, hear.)"

"We have our very expensive social services. They are intended for our own people."

Anti-Slum Campaign.

The Archbishop of Canterbury mentioned that he very often received letters suggesting that the Ecclesiastical Commissioners were bad landlords and ought to put their own house in order.

"That falsehood," he said, "is circulated over and over again in relation to a particular district in Paddington. The Commissioners' housing schemes in fact gave a lead to the rest of the world."

A resolution calling upon churchmen to support the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Government in their appeal to join in the campaign for the abolition of slums, was carried.

The Upper House then ended its session.

The Lower House considered the report of the Joint Committee on Unemployment and the Laying on of Hands, which was before the Upper House on Wednesday.

The Archbishop of Coventry said that the medicinal properties of oil were exaggerated by the ancients.

"Why," he asked, "should we not ask for God's blessing on quinine in the case of malaria? Is it not asking too much of God to suggest that he should allocate such blessed properties to some olive oil, when there are more appropriate medicines?"

Eventually the report was referred back to the committee for further examination.

During a discussion on unemployment, the Dean of Canterbury (Dr. Hewlett Johnson) said, "I speak on this question as an ex-engineer, and I still belong to the Society of Civil Engineers."

He added that some of them had foreseen twenty years ago that the machine was going to make unnecessary the vast bulk of human labour.

The House agreed to a number of resolutions emphasizing the need for concentration on the problem of unemployment. This completed the business of the session.

HITLER TO "SACK" ALL WOMEN

"True Place is Home," Say Nazis

JEWS TO LOSE ALL THEIR TITLES

Germany's women are to be taken from offices and factories and, instead, are to be found jobs in their own homes under the Hitler Government's £30,000,000 scheme of unemployment relief.

The Nazis have always proclaimed that woman's true place is in the home, and that they should make way for men in trade and industry.

Marriages are now to be encouraged by the granting of marriage loans other relief.

A national appeal is to be made for voluntary contributions and other aid for the relief of unemployment. The finance side of the new scheme will be regulated by a committee headed by the Reichsbank president.

Cleansing Nobility.

Meanwhile, the time has now come to deprive the Jewish aristocracy of their titles, and to cleanse the German nobility of every trace of Jewish blood, according to an article published by the Nazi Press service.

The article complains that the German nobility, by abandoning its family standing and entering modern society, has become permeated with foreigners and Jews. It is added:

"The foreigners are of no consequence, because the aristocrats of all European countries derive from the old Germanic upper crust, but the regilding of old coats of arms with the help of Miss Cohens and the infamous raising of Jewish financiers and similar Laxelite personages to the Peerage must be stopped."

Britain and Jews.

"We must annul all Jewish titles and deprive of their titles all branches of German noble families which have ever admitted Jewish blood."

The significance of the present juncture of the Anglo-Palestine Exhibition in London is pointed out in a letter signed by Lords Cecil (of Chelwood), Burhan Cilli, and Melchett, Sir Julian Cahn, Sir Nicholas Grattan-Doyne, M.P., Sir Samuel Instone, and Sir Philip Hartog. The letter states:

"The unanimity with which nearly all sections of British opinion have appeal to the German nation to refrain from racial discrimination in its treatment of Jews is most encouraging."

Exhibition Appeal.

"As the mandatory power for Palestine, Great Britain has accepted a special responsibility towards a long-oppressed people, and it is highly significant that, while the persecution of the Jews in many countries is so severe, there should be held in London an official exhibition illustrating the history of Palestine, its progress under the mandate, and its prospects as one of the great economic forces of the future."

Support for this venture will emphasise the absence of anti-Semitic feeling in Great Britain.

"May we appeal to all friends of Palestine who will be in London between June 7 and 17 to make an effort to visit the Anglo-Palestine Exhibition, which will be held at the Royal Agricultural Hall, Islington, London, during that period."

NEW WIRELESS AGE COMING

Marchese Maroni's Prediction

BROADCASTING IN PERFECTION

A new world in broadcasting was pictured as a not far distant possibility by Marchese Marconi in a special interview given to London The Daily Telegraph.

In this new world there will be: No more congestion. No more interference from storms, steel buildings, lifts, and refrigerators.

Voices and music transmitted with a crystal clarity unknown to present-day wireless "fans."

The Marchese has brought to England certain instruments in connection with his recent researches on the transmission and reception of micro-waves. He is to go to Cambridge on June 8 to receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Science.

Micro-wave Possibilities.

In discussing his latest discoveries, Marchese Marconi revealed that at the present time it "should be possible" by means of his discoveries to broadcast on a wave-length of 20 centimetres over a radius of perhaps 20 miles. He has already succeeded in transmitting speech by a beam on the micro-wave-length over a distance of 163 miles.

"Micro-wave broadcasting," said the Marchese, "is already possible over a single town. Its advantages are its freedom from interference and in the clarity of reception and the absence of atmospheric and fading."

"Most important of all is the tremendously increased scope offered for independent broadcasting."

"Between wave-lengths of, say, 20 centimetres and 1 metre, you can have as many broadcasting stations as you have at present between wave-lengths of 200 and 1,000 metres. In each case, reception would be as individual and distinct as at present and better in quality."

Still Working Hard.

"I am still working hard on micro-wave transmission and reception. The problem now is to use more power in the transmission."

"It appears that the curvature of the earth and the obstruction of solid objects have been overcome, but I am not yet certain whether the micro-waves travel over or through the obstructions. Probably if a hill were dry enough, the waves would travel through it. Micro-wave telephony by means of a beam is already in use as a commercial proposition between certain stations in Italy."

"I have come to the conclusion that among the micro-waves those between 40 and 50 centimetres are the most useful. Smaller than that they are less reliable."

DISTURBANCE IN ANGOLA

Lisbon, June 17.—Grave disturbances are reported from the Portuguese African colony of Angola where the powerful Mucubies tribe is in open revolt against the Portuguese authorities on account of its unwillingness to pay taxes. Several revenue officers have been murdered by the rebels and a force of about 8,000 natives, armed with rifles and revolvers, is at present marching through the province of Massabedes, threatening the European settlers. U.S. LINER WASHINGTON

ALL THE LATEST NAVIGATION EQUIPMENT

Navigating equipment of the new U.S. liner Washington, which has just entered trans-Atlantic service, includes a gyroscopic compass system and gyro pilot for automatic steering under control of the gyroscopic compass system. The function of this apparatus is to control the movements of the ship's rudder. For this purpose it is arranged either to hold the ship's head automatically to the set course by means of a contact maker electrically driven from the master gyro-compass or to permit electrical hand steering through the small steering wheel. A course recorder is installed in the chart room in connection with the gyro-compass system.

In conjunction with the steering of the vessel, rudder indicator and rudder angle recorder system are also installed. This rudder indicator is so mounted in the wheel house that it can be plainly seen both by the men at the wheel and the officer of the watch and indicates at a glance the position of the rudder. A rudder angle recorder installed in the chart room accurately records all rudder movements on a time chart.

A radio compass is installed in the wheel house, and a fathometer in the chart room indicates the depth of the water below the keel of the ship at all times.

The wheel house is fitted with clearview screens, which consist of a polished glass disc rotated in its own plane on a central bearing by an electric motor at such a speed that rain, spray, snow or fog are instantly dispersed and complete transparency maintained in all weathers.

The wireless equipment is capable of holding uninterrupted direct day and night communication with either side of the Atlantic. There are also two motor lifeboats.

Two loud-speaking navigating telephone systems are installed, one for communication between pilot house, chief engineer's room, engine room, steering gear room and docking bridge, the other for communications between pilot house, crew's nest, forecastle.—S.F. Shipping Register.

DEATH DURING BEAUTY CONTEST

Paris, June 10.—Tragedy stalked in the footsteps of beauty when the lovely young Lyette Eppag, called proudly off to the United States to represent her country in the international beauty contest at the World Fair.

Selected as the most beautiful girl in France Miss Eppag, a dazzling brunette, went to Chicago where, according to a message to the Paris Edition of the Chicago Tribune, she has died after a brief illness.
